Khrush Declares West Must Yield On Germany

Soviet Premier Launches 12-Day Visit To France

PARIS (AP) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev came to France Wednesday and without wasting time or words told President Charles de Gaulle the West must back down and agree to a peace treaty with Germany.

Khrushchev made his bold approach at a banquet in the Elysee Palace, where De Gaulle was host to the Soviet Premier and representatives of French overseas communities.

Khrushchev arrived in Paris Wednesday morning for a 12-day visit. During the day he delivered an appeal for disarmament and a warning to France to beware of West Germany.

At one point he also discussed nuclear weapons testing, saying the Soviet Union had attempted to meet objections raised by the West that underground blasts could not be detected.

"We have never conducted any underground explosions and we do not intend to," Khrushchev said.

Germany was still uppermost in the mind of the Soviet leader Wednesday night.

The question of a peace treaty with Germany is a tough East-West issue. Khrushchev demands as his price recognition of Communist East Germany as an independent nation and turning West Berlin into an open city largely free of control by the Western Allies.

In a formal toast at the banquet he declared: "The people want peace. We must justify their hopes. It is necessary to conclude a peace treaty with Germany. All the people will gain from that, including the German people."

Polite Reply From De Gaulle

He called also for an end of NATO and the Western European Union, both of which include Germany as military member.

Khrushchev's firm words met with a polite, formal reply from De Gaulle.

The French leader said that if Khrushchev was seeking a lessening of tension and "perhaps an understanding of the policy you proclaim and the great country you lead, then be sure you will have the ear of France."

De Gaulle had replied with similar politeness and raised no vital questions when he first met Khrushchev earlier in the day.

But no merely polite words came from Khrushchev as he delivered his toast.

His whole approach to the visit, as indicated in the first day, is just what the French had expected. They knew he would try to break down their relationship with the West and more particularly with West Germany, and that was just what his speeches seemed intended for.

Heavy Safety Precautions

"We are going to do everything possible to bring about disarmament," the Soviet leader said. He spoke optimistically of the prospects for adoption of a nuclear test ban.

Khrushchev said "only insignificant questions remain" to be settled in the three-power nuclear test ban talks at Geneva.

Fresh from a five-hour flight from Moscow, Khrushchev pitched at once into a program bound to tax him considerably after the recent attack of influenza that forced him to postpone his presummit visit from March 15.

Police were everywhere and security precautions were the heaviest since another Communist leader, President Tito of Yugoslavia, visited France.

Crowds which witnessed his drive into the city were not large or wildly enthusiastic, but friendly and curious.

Police estimated the turnout for the motor procession from the airfield to the Quai D'Orsay, seat of the Foreign Office where Khrushchev and his family will stay in Paris, at only 80,000.

Russia Offers Arms Cut Plan; Defect Spotted

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union offered Wednesday to carry out with other powers a cut in manpower and weapons under the eyes of international disarmament controllers.

But Western negotiators said the plan still would leave the world in the dark on the Soviet Union's true military strength.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin presented his proposal to the 10-nation disarmament committee and claimed it showed the Soviet position "on controls is close to that of the Western powers."

"We want controls from the beginning to the end of disarmament," he said.

But the Western delegates said the defect in Zorin's plan, as they interpreted it, was so obvious that they hoped it was not put forward seriously.

If this is the Soviet Union's last word, and not a bargaining position, they said, then the week-old conference already is in trouble.

This is what Zorin offered: The demobilization of an agreed number of men and the removal of a corresponding number of weapons from a nation's military establishment would be controlled and verified from beginning to end by international inspectors.

But then came the catch, in the Western view. There would be no verification of the number of men and weapons the country had when the reduction began. There also would be no check after reductions were concluded.

The five Western powers—the United States, Britain, France, Italy and Canada—began a study of the transcript of Zorin's remarks. They hoped to determine how much room for maneuver the Soviet delegate left himself.

63 Plane Dead Memorialized

TELL CITY, Ind. (AP) — Civil Aeronautics Board and state officials said Wednesday they will continue to remove body fragments from the crater where a Northwest Airlines plane crashed, despite mixed feelings among some health officials.

Meanwhile, symbolic funeral services for the 63 victims of last Thursday's crash were conducted in a nearby cemetery.

The CAB said a graves registration team will be sought from Ft. Knox, Ky., to handle the operation. A spokesman added Wednesday's investigation "indicates more complete bodies will be found."

Earlier, quietly sobbing mourners gathered on a cemetery bluff overlooking the hill country where the Lockheed Electra crashed.

Four empty bronze coffins, symbolizing the religious faiths of the victims, were lowered into their graves after the 150 relatives and friends headed home again in motorcades to take them to planes in Louisville, Ky., and Evansville, Ind.

Rocket Failure Ruins Satellite Launch Attempt

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Rocket failure ruined a United States effort Wednesday to launch a radiation-study satellite into orbit about the earth. Officials said the experiment will be tried again.

The four-stage Juno II booster rocket blasted off smoothly at 8:35 a. m. but the third stage—a cluster of three solid-fuel rockets—did not ignite and the Juno II and its 35.3-pound payload plunged into the Atlantic about 2,000 miles from the Cape.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced an hour after launch that the 76-foot rocket failed to place its payload in orbit. NASA said it received no radio confirmation of third- and fourth-stage ignition. The third-stage fizzle doomed the fourth stage.

The saetllite was designed to make the most extensive study yet attempted of the Van Allen radiation belts which surround the earth and pose a formidable barrier to manned space travel. They extend from 1,000 to more than 50,000 miles into space.

In order to explore the most intense radiation zones in the belts, the payload was aimed at an egg-shaped orbit that would have swung it as far out as 33,000 miles from the earth and as close as 200 miles. If the satellite had been successful, it would have been named Explorer VIII.

Dr. Wernher von Braun, Army missile expert recently transferred to NASA, told newsmen another attempt will be made. He hinted it may be several months off.

Resort Hotel Burns

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI)—A general alarm fire reduced the unoccupied, seven-story Wiltshire Hotel to rubble Wednesday night, damaged the adjacent Governor Hotel and sent embers flying toward three other structures, igniting one a block away.

Damage was estimated by owners of the 200-room, frame Wiltshire at $500,000.

Explosion, Fire Destroy Five Baltimore Homes

BALTIMORE (AP) — A powerful explosion and gas-fed flames destroyed five row houses Wednesday and burned four persons, two of them seriously.

A police officer assisting at the scene suffered a fatal heart attack.

Firemen poked through the smoking debris looking for bodies, although there were no reports that anyone was trapped.

A reporter at the scene said the gas-fed flames spurted up in geysers and that the desolation resembled bombed-out houses during wartime.

The blast occurred at 3:20 p.m. (EST), touching off six alarms. By 6 p. m. firemen had the blaze under control and two units returned to fire houses.

The dead officer was Patrolman Carroll B. Kaiser, 53. He fell to the sidewalk and a fellow officer tried mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. Kaiser's breathing returned briefly, but he was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Fire department investigators said the explosion evidently occurred from a leaking gas pipe at the home of Joseph Perry of 2809 E. Chase Street in the densely populated row-house block.

That home was knocked flat and two homes on either side were made uninhabitable by the blast and fire. Three other houses in the row were damaged and the terrific boom shattered a number of windows and shook persons in the neighborhood.

Perry, 28, related from a hospital bed that he was walking up the steps of his home when the blast went off, knocking him down.

Civil Rights Bill To Clear House Today

Dixie Legislator Forces One-Day Delay Of Passage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House finished putting together its civil rights bill Wednesday but had to delay a vote on final passage until Thursday.

Approval then is assured.

A last-ditch fighter against the legislation, Rep. John Bell Williams (D-Miss), forced the one-day delay by demanding a printed copy of the bill in its final form.

For all practical purposes, however, the bill was completed.

Going beyond the 1957 legislation which created the federal Civil Rights Commission, the measure provides new federal court help for Negroes who complain of being prevented from voting.

It also provides for federal punishment of persons who defy court orders for school desegregation by force, or threats of force.

Battle Shifts Back To Senate

A roll-call vote of 295-124 late Wednesday nailed in the voting section, which previously had been approved on a standing vote which did not record individual stands.

The roll call found 172 Democrats and 123 Republicans voting for the section, and 100 Democrats and 24 Republicans voting to junk it.

Now the civil rights battle shifts back to the Senate.

In the Senate, Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) is aiming at a vote on passage of a civil rights bill by a week from Saturday, April 2.

Johnson's target date could prove over-optimistic, in view of the determined battle 18 Southern senators have been putting up against the bill. Also, backers of various proposals have been speaking at considerable length to make the bill stronger.

Five Major Provisions

The House bill has these five major provisions:

VOTING SECTION — Federal courts are authorized to appoint agents, called referees, to oversee registration, voting and vote-counting in areas where a court has held there has been systematic discrimination against Negroes. Local or state officials barring certified voters would be subject to contempt-of-court punishment.

VIOLENCE—Persons who interfere, by force or threats of force, with a court order against school segregation could be fined up to $1,000 and sent to jail for 60 days.

BOMBINGS—The FBI and other federal agencies could move in promptly. Persons fleeing to avoid arrest could be fined up to $5,000 and imprisoned for five years.

RECORDS—Local election officials would be required to preserve their records for two years, for federal inspection on demand.

SERVICE CHILDREN — Federal officials could set up schools for servicemen's children in areas where local schools are closed to avoid integration.

Hagerty Raps Summit Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House fired back Wednesday a Democratic complaint that President Eisenhower plans to go to an East-West summit conference without advance plans or purpose.

"That's a lot of nonsense," retorted press secretary James C. Hagerty.

Hagerty was replying to Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn), who had accused Secretary of State Christian A. Herter Tuesday of gambling recklessly by agreeing to an Eisenhower meeting with Premier Nikita Khrushchev which would have no formal agenda.

While defending the decision, Herter had conceded that a wide-open conference is a gamble.

But he argued that even such a meeting was preferable to allowing international tensions to continue to mount.

At a news conference Wednesday, Hagerty strongly backed up Herter's arguments. At the same time, he disagreed with a newsman who said Herter appeared to have agreed with some of the Democratic criticism.

Hagerty insisted that Herter in replying to Gore before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Tuesday acknowledged only that there was an element of risk in any East-West summit parley.

South Africa Raps U.S. Riot Denunciation

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The government told the United States in effect Wednesday to keep out of South Africa's race troubles.

The government rapped back at U. S. State Department denunciation of bloodshed as Negroes challenged the nation's white supremacy laws with work boycotts after two days of violent demonstrations.

The Foreign Ministry summoned U. S. Ambassador Philip Crowe for a conference, then issued a statement.

The statement said the discussion with Crowe does not mean that South Africa is "conceding the right of the U. S. government to concern itself with the domestic affairs of South Africa, just as the Union (of South Africa) government does not concern itself with riots or racial disturbances in other countries."

The statement declared the State Department had criticized police violence here without knowing all the facts "regarding attacks by many thousands of Bantu (Negroes) on a small police force to whom was entrusted the duty of maintaining law and order."

As criticism of this week's police violence mounted in world capitals, officers kept a tight lid on South Africa's 11 million nonwhites.

The Negroes' work boycotts threatened to paralyze some important industrial centers. The weapon could be a potent one for the Negroes, who supply the low-cost labor that keeps the country's economy going.

In the Vereeniging coal mining area, where Monday's worst riots occurred, police chiefs held a conference to plan action against the Pan-Africanists.

Police charged militant Negro leaders "have created a reign of terror" in Negro settlements to keep people from returning to work.

The boycott was organized by the militant Pan-Africanist party as part of the campaign against the passes that all nonwhites in South Africa must carry at all times.

The campaign opened Monday with demonstrations which were crushed by police fire that killed about 80 Africans and wounded 200 more.

Cause Of Actress' Death Still Mystery

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Additional tests were ordered Wednesday when an autopsy failed to determine cause of death of former actress Lynne Baggett, found dead in her apartment Tuesday night.

Miss Baggett, 34, ex-wife of producer Sam Spiegel, was dead an estimated 12 hours before her body was discovered by Darlene Jones, her nurse.

Symington Will Make It Official

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Stuart Symington (Mo.) will announce officially Thursday that he is a candidate for the 1960 democratic presidential nomination.

Symington, air secretary in the Truman administration, said Wednesday that he would issue a statement at noon Thursday and then hold a news conference at 2:30 p.m., e.s.t.

He did not say what the announcements would be, but it has been known that he was planning to declare himself in the Democratic race.

The 58-year-old Symington virtually has been an open candidate for months, vigorously attacking the Eisenhower administration for its defense policies.

U.S. Tightens Cuban Flight Control System

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government cracked down Wednesday on illegal flights by private U. S. planes to Cuba and illicit arms shipments by air to foreign countries.

It appealed to the public for information leading to the conviction of persons engaged in such activities.

As a key part of its get-tough policy, it offered a $5,000 reward to tipsters who learn of any plans for unauthorized shipment of arms or ammunition to Cuba or any other foreign country.

The government also called on all plane operators and aircraft charter and rental agencies in Florida, Georgia and Alabama to report on any persons seeking to charter or rent aircraft. This would not apply to persons who are well known to fixed-base operators.

The crackdown was ordered by the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) in the wake of a Cuban flight by two Americans, now being held by the Fidel Castro government. Cuba has accused the two pilots of trying to rescue supporters of the old Batista regime.

Race Violence Flares At AF Radar Station

By The Associated Press

Another section of the United States—the Southwest — has been drawn into the strife-ridden campaign of Negroes seeking to banish color lines from America's social structure.

The Air Force said Wednesday that racial violence erupted at an integrated Air Force radar station near Albuquerque, N.M., last weekend.

The Air Force statement was released after the incident was reported to the Albuquerque Tribune by airmen witnesses.

Meanwhile new demonstrations were staged by Northern college students over discrimination against Southern Negroes.

The public information officer for the Albuquerque Air Defense Sector at Kirtland Air Force Base said there was "a spontaneous altercation following a dance at West Mesa Air Force Station early Sunday morning. Both white and colored airmen were involved."

One airman told the Tribune that friction between white and Negro airmen had been brewing for some time.

Six white girls, students at Skidmore College, picketed F. W. Woolworth's Store in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., protesting discrimination against Negroes at the company's stores in the South.

The girls were taken to police headquarters, lectured by the police chief and returned to the college.

About 300 Yale University Divinity School students formed a long line and marched to a public square in New Haven, Conn., carrying placards. Their signs called for support of lunch counter sitdown demonstrations and for protection of the right of peaceful protest.

A spokesman for the Yale students said their demonstration was to protest Southern discrimination and also to support efforts toward overcoming racial problems in the New Haven area.

Sewer Tunnel Blast Kills Three Men, Injures Four

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—Leaking gas exploded in a sewer tunnel 20 feet below ground on Wednesday, killing three workmen and critically injuring four other men.

One of the critically injured, Thomas Gregory, 33, was the first rescuer to try to wade through knee-deep mud and water to save the men trapped under tons of caved-in mud.

Gregory was overcome by the gas fumes and had to be dragged from the 360-foot tunnel. The injured were taken to Marion County Hospital.

Rescuers, wearing ordinary gas masks, were forced back in first attempts to reach the buried men. Police rushed special gas masks and air compressors to cope with the strong fumes.

The rescue crew brought the men 360 feet along the 20-foot deep tunnel to an opening where a crane hoisted them into fresh air. The first three men were rushed to the hospital. The next three were dead.

The dead were Ralph Submarino of Connersville, foreman of the Tomplins Construction Co.; Bob McCormack, Louisville, Ky., and Dick Coleglazier, Rushville, Ind.

The injured were Gene Warner, Louisville, and Robert Stamm and Harold Gaugh, both of Indianapolis.

Armed Pair In Desperate Freedom Bid

Tenn. Prisoners Threaten To Kill 6 Men, 3 Women

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Two desperate long-term prisoners snatched nine hostages inside the Tennessee State Prison late Wednesday and sent out word three hours later that, "We want our freedom or there will be wholesale murder." They held the six men and three women hostages at pistol point.

The quotes were brought out by Father Charles O'Donnell, a Catholic priest who spent 50 minutes inside a prison office trying to persuade the prisoners to surrender. Father O'Donnell said the men indicated they expected to die and didn't care if others died, too.

He said the two men demanded their freedom, a state automobile and three state employes to accompany them.

State Corrections Commissioner Keith Hampton said he would refuse the requests.

State officials maintained contact with the prisoners and their hostages through an intercom system.

Desperate And Dangerous

Warden Lynn Bomar said the prisoners were among the most desperate and dangerous inmates of the penitentiary.

He identified the prisoners as Robert Rivera of Houston, Tex., serving a 40-year term for armed robbery at Dover, Tenn., in December 1956, and Charles Raymond Farra of Borderland, W. Va., serving a life term for robbery and kidnaping at Livingston, Tenn., in 1958.

Rivera was one of a gang of five so-called Texas badmen who were convicted and sentenced after holding up a motel operator during a crime spree in two or three states after escaping from a Texas jail.

Farra was captured near Albany, Ky., after kidnaping Henry Walthall and his daughter at Livingston, Bomar said. The Walthalls escaped after being held captive several hours.

Guns Smuggled In

Bomar said the hostages were taken in this manner: Rivera and Farra were in line with other prisoners being paid in prison "scrip" for extra work inside the prison. They suddenly pulled pistols and ordered two women employes, Pauline Rose and Gwendolyn Tarpy into a nearby office.

Asst. Deputy Warden Carl Burns was ordered into the same room, along with Joe S. Beam, a Nashville lawyer visiting a client, a woman visiting her prisoner husband, and four men employes.

Bomar said he had no idea how the prisoners smuggled the guns into the prison.

He said Rivera and Farra apparently were operating alone and that none of the other prisoners took part in the incident.

Hundreds of city, state and county police swarmed to the prison, located on the outskirts of Nashville. First reports indicated it might be a general riot.

Former Columnist F. P. Adams, 78, Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Franklin P. Adams, noted columnist of two decades ago, died Wednesday of hardening of the arteries. He was 78.

The warm and witty "F.P.A." wrote his famous "Conning Tower" for a series of New York newspapers—the old Tribune, the World, the Herald-Tribune and the Post. He also appeared for several years on the "Information Please" radio program with John Kieran and Oscar Levant. A 1952 television program of the show was not successful and ran only one season.

He died in the Lynwood Nursing Home on West 102nd street where he has been confined for the past five years. He had not written a regular newspaper column since 1941.

Motherwell's Fate Remains Undecided

DOWNIEVILLE, Calif. (AP)—A jury deliberating between death in the gas chamber or life imprisonment for Larry Lord Motherwell was still undecided Wednesday.

Motherwell was convicted March 15 of first degree murder in the death of Pearl Putney, a 72-year-old Washington, D. C., widow, while on a cross-country fling which she financed.

Under California law, separate trials are required to decide on guilt, and on punishment.

The roll call found 172 Democrats and 123 Republicans voting for the section, and 100 Democrats and 24 Republicans voting to junk it.

Now the civil rights battle shifts back to the Senate.

In the Senate, Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) is aiming at a vote on passage of a civil rights bill by a week from Saturday, April 2.

Johnson's target date could prove over-optimistic, in view of the determined battle 18 Southern senators have been putting up against the bill. Also, backers of various proposals have been speaking at considerable length to make the bill stronger.

Five Major Provisions

The House bill has these five major provisions:

VOTING SECTION — Federal courts are authorized to appoint agents, called referees, to oversee registration, voting and vote-counting in areas where a court has held there has been systematic discrimination against Negroes. Local or state officials barring certified voters would be subject to contempt-of-court punishment.

VIOLENCE—Persons who interfere, by force or threats of force, with a court order against school segregation could be fined up to $1,000 and sent to jail for 60 days.

BOMBINGS—The FBI and other federal agencies could move in promptly. Persons fleeing to avoid arrest could be fined up to $5,000 and imprisoned for five years.

RECORDS—Local election officials would be required to preserve their records for two years, for federal inspection on demand.

SERVICE CHILDREN — Federal officials could set up schools for servicemen's children in areas where local schools are closed to avoid integration.

Hagerty Raps Summit Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House fired back Wednesday a Democratic complaint that President Eisenhower plans to go to an East-West summit conference without advance plans or purpose.

"That's a lot of nonsense," retorted press secretary James C. Hagerty.

Hagerty was replying to Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn), who had accused Secretary of State Christian A. Herter Tuesday of gambling recklessly by agreeing to an Eisenhower meeting with Premier Nikita Khrushchev which would have no formal agenda.

While defending the decision, Herter had conceded that a wide-open conference is a gamble.

But he argued that even such a meeting was preferable to allowing international tensions to continue to mount.

At a news conference Wednesday, Hagerty strongly backed up Herter's arguments. At the same time, he disagreed with a newsman who said Herter appeared to have agreed with some of the Democratic criticism.

Hagerty insisted that Herter in replying to Gore before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Tuesday acknowledged only that there was an element of risk in any East-West summit parley.

Resort Hotel Burns

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI)—A general alarm fire reduced the unoccupied, seven-story Wiltshire Hotel to rubble Wednesday night, damaged the adjacent Governor Hotel and sent embers flying toward three other structures, igniting one a block away.

Damage was estimated by owners of the 200-room, frame Wiltshire at $500,000.

Woman Appeals To "Mrs. K"

Unidentified kneeling Hungarian refugee woman begs Mrs. Nikita S. Khrushchev for help in bringing to Paris a 6-year-old daughter left in Budapest. The sobbing woman, bearing a letter addressed to "Mrs. K," ran up to the Soviet Premier's wife as she entered a Paris hospital for a tour yesterday. Mrs. Khrushchev accompanied her husband on a state visit to France. Security officers gently led the woman away. (AP Photofax via radio from Paris)

South Africa Raps U.S. Riot Denunciation

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The government told the United States in effect Wednesday to keep out of South Africa's race troubles.

The government rapped back at U. S. State Department denunciation of bloodshed as Negroes challenged the nation's white supremacy laws with work boycotts after two days of violent demonstrations.

The Foreign Ministry summoned U. S. Ambassador Philip Crowe for a conference, then issued a statement.

The statement said the discussion with Crowe does not mean that South Africa is "conceding the right of the U. S. government to concern itself with the domestic affairs of South Africa, just as the Union (of South Africa) government does not concern itself with riots or racial disturbances in other countries."

The statement declared the State Department had criticized police violence here without knowing all the facts "regarding attacks by many thousands of Bantu (Negroes) on a small police force to whom was entrusted the duty of maintaining law and order."

As criticism of this week's police violence mounted in world capitals, officers kept a tight lid on South Africa's 11 million non-whites.

The Negroes' work boycotts threatened to paralyze some important industrial centers. The weapon could be a potent one for the Negroes, who supply the low-cost labor that keeps the country's economy going.

In the Vereeniging coal mining area, where Monday's worst riots occurred, police chiefs held a conference to plan action against the Pan-Africanists.

Police charged militant Negro leaders "have created a reign of terror" in Negro settlements to keep people from returning to work.

The boycott was organized by the militant Pan-Africanist party as part of the campaign against the passes that all non-whites in South Africa must carry at all times.

The campaign opened Monday with demonstrations which were crushed by police fire that killed about 80 Africans and wounded 200 more.

Cause Of Actress' Death Still Mystery

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Additional tests were ordered Wednesday when an autopsy failed to determine cause of death of former actress Lynne Baggett, found dead in her apartment Tuesday night.

Miss Baggett, 34, ex-wife of producer Sam Spiegel, was dead an estimated 12 hours before her body was discovered by Darlene Jones, her nurse.

Symington Will Make It Official

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Stuart Symington (Mo.) will announce officially Thursday that he is a candidate for the 1960 democratic presidential nomination.

Symington, air secretary in the Truman administration, said Wednesday that he would issue a statement at noon Thursday and then hold a news conference at 2:30 p.m., e.s.t.

He did not say what the announcements would be, but it has been known that he was planning to declare himself in the Democratic race.

The 58-year-old Symington virtually has been an open candidate for months, vigorously attacking the Eisenhower administration for its defense policies.

U.S. Tightens Cuban Flight Control System

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government cracked down Wednesday on illegal flights by private U. S. planes to Cuba and illicit arms shipments by air to foreign countries.

It appealed to the public for information leading to the conviction of persons engaged in such activities.

As a key part of its get-tough policy, it offered a $5,000 reward to tipsters who learn of any plans for unauthorized shipment of arms or ammunition to Cuba or any other foreign country.

The government also called on all plane operators and aircraft charter and rental agencies in Florida, Georgia and Alabama to report on any persons seeking to charter or rent aircraft. This would not apply to persons who are well known to fixed-base operators.

The crackdown was ordered by the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) in the wake of a Cuban flight by two Americans, now being held by the Fidel Castro government. Cuba has accused the two pilots of trying to rescue supporters of the old Batista regime.

Sewer Tunnel Blast Kills Three Men, Injures Four

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—Leaking gas exploded in a sewer tunnel 20 feet below ground on Wednesday, killing three workmen and critically injuring four other men.

One of the critically injured, Thomas Gregory, 33, was the first rescuer to try to wade through knee-deep mud and water to save the men trapped under tons of caved-in mud.

Gregory was overcome by the gas fumes and had to be dragged from the 360-foot tunnel. The injured were taken to Marion County Hospital.

Rescuers, wearing ordinary gas masks, were forced back in first attempts to reach the buried men. Police rushed special gas masks and air compressors to cope with the strong fumes.

The rescue crew brought the men 360 feet along the 20-foot deep tunnel to an opening where a crane hoisted them into fresh air. The first three men were rushed to the hospital. The next three were dead.

The dead were Ralph Submarino of Connersville, foreman of the Tomplins Construction Co.; Bob McCormack, Louisville, Ky., and Dick Coleglazier, Rushville, Ind.

The injured were Gene Warner, Louisville, and Robert Stamm and Harold Gaugh, both of Indianapolis.

Race Violence Flares At AF Radar Station

By The Associated Press

Another section of the United States—the Southwest — has been drawn into the strife-ridden campaign of Negroes seeking to banish color lines from America's social structure.

The Air Force said Wednesday that racial violence erupted at an integrated Air Force radar station near Albuquerque, N.M., last weekend.

The Air Force statement was released after the incident was reported to the Albuquerque Tribune by airmen witnesses.

Meanwhile new demonstrations were staged by Northern college students over discrimination against Southern Negroes.

The public information officer for the Albuquerque Air Defense Sector at Kirtland Air Force Base said there was "a spontaneous altercation following a dance at West Mesa Air Force Station early Sunday morning. Both white and colored airmen were involved."

One airman told the Tribune that friction between white and Negro airmen had been brewing for some time.

Six white girls, students at Skidmore College, picketed F. W. Woolworth's Store in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., protesting discrimination against Negroes at the company's stores in the South.

The girls were taken to police headquarters, lectured by the police chief and returned to the college.

About 300 Yale University Divinity School students formed a long line and marched to a public square in New Haven, Conn., carrying placards. Their signs called for support of lunch counter sitdown demonstrations and for protection of the right of peaceful protest.

A spokesman for the Yale students said their demonstration was to protest Southern discrimination and also to support efforts toward overcoming racial problems in the New Haven area.

Armed Pair In Desperate Freedom Bid

Tenn. Prisoners Threaten To Kill 6 Men, 3 Women

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Two desperate long-term prisoners snatched nine hostages inside the Tennessee State Prison late Wednesday and sent out word three hours later that, "We want our freedom or there will be wholesale murder." They held the six men and three women hostages at pistol point.

The quotes were brought out by Father Charles O'Donnell, a Catholic priest who spent 50 minutes inside a prison office trying to persuade the prisoners to surrender. Father O'Donnell said the men indicated they expected to die and didn't care if others died, too.

He said the two men demanded their freedom, a state automobile and three state employes to accompany them.

State Corrections Commissioner Keith Hampton said he would refuse the requests.

State officials maintained contact with the prisoners and their hostages through an intercom system.

Desperate And Dangerous

Warden Lynn Bomar said the prisoners were among the most desperate and dangerous inmates of the penitentiary.

He identified the prisoners as Robert Rivera of Houston, Tex., serving a 40-year term for armed robbery at Dover, Tenn., in December 1956, and Charles Raymond Farra of Borderland, W. Va., serving a life term for robbery and kidnaping at Livingston, Tenn., in 1958.

Rivera was one of a gang of five so-called Texas badmen who were convicted and sentenced after holding up a motel operator during a crime spree in two or three states after escaping from a Texas jail.

Farra was captured near Albany, Ky., after kidnaping Henry Walthall and his daughter at Livingston, Bomar said. The Walthalls escaped after being held captive several hours.

Guns Smuggled In

Bomar said the hostages were taken in this manner: Rivera and Farra were in line with other prisoners being paid in prison "scrip" for extra work inside the prison. They suddenly pulled pistols and ordered two women employes, Pauline Rose and Gwendolyn Tarpy into a nearby office.

Asst. Deputy Warden Carl Burns was ordered into the same room, along with Joe S. Beam, a Nashville lawyer visiting a client, a woman visiting her prisoner husband, and four men employes.

Bomar said he had no idea how the prisoners smuggled the guns into the prison.

He said Rivera and Farra apparently were operating alone and that none of the other prisoners took part in the incident.

Hundreds of city, state and county police swarmed to the prison, located on the outskirts of Nashville. First reports indicated it might be a general riot.

Former Columnist F. P. Adams, 78, Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Franklin P. Adams, noted columnist of two decades ago, died Wednesday of hardening of the arteries. He was 78.

The warm and witty "F.P.A." wrote his famous "Conning Tower" for a series of New York newspapers—the old Tribune, the World, the Herald-Tribune and the Post. He also appeared for several years on the "Information Please" radio program with John Kieran and Oscar Levant. A 1952 television program of the show was not successful and ran only one season.

He died in the Lynwood Nursing Home on West 102nd street where he has been confined for the past five years. He had not written a regular newspaper column since 1941.

Motherwell's Fate Remains Undecided

DOWNIEVILLE, Calif. (AP)—A jury deliberating between death in the gas chamber or life imprisonment for Larry Lord Motherwell was still undecided Wednesday.

Motherwell was convicted March 15 of first degree murder in the death of Pearl Putney, a 72-year-old Washington, D. C., widow, while on a cross-country fling which she financed.

Under California law, separate trials are required to decide on guilt, and on punishment.

Flemming Indicates Administration Not Sold On Health Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming hinted Wednesday he is waging a struggle within the Eisenhower administration over his proposal for federal-state sharing of health insurance costs for the aged.

Emerging from a closed-door session with the House Ways and Means Committee, Flemming told newsmen the administration so far has approved only "exploration" of his proposal—with no assurance the plan will be recommended to Congress this session, if ever.

"I am pursuing this approach just as vigorously as possible," Flemming said of his idea.

It would embody a federal-state subsidy to help defray the costs of privately written health insurance for the elderly, with beneficiaries contributing voluntarily and according to their ability to pay.

In his formal statement to the committee, Flemming declared: "I want to make it clear that a. an administration we will oppose any program of compulsory health insurance."

After the session, Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-RI), dismissed Flemming's proposals as "gobbledegook"—a term meaning government mumbo jumbo.

Forand—author of a rival proposal backed by organized labor — said Flemming's presentation amounted to "sweeping health insurance under the rug, at least for the balance of this session."

The administration, and Flemming, oppose Forand's bill. It would provide up to 120 days a year of hospital, nursing home and surgical services for Social Security pensioners, with the benefits to be financed by an additional Social Security payroll tax of ¼ per cent on workers and employers both.

Where Forand's plan would be limited to persons on the Social Security rolls, Flemming's proposal apparently would benefit all the needy aged.

Bill Outlawing Rigging Of TV Shows Offered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to outlaw rigging of TV quiz shows and other irregularities in the broadcasting industry was introduced in the House Wednesday.

Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark), chairman of the House subcommittee that investigated the quiz show scandals and now is probing into payola, submitted two bills.

Among other things, his measures would require licenses for television and radio networks—a proposal certain to provoke strong opposition.

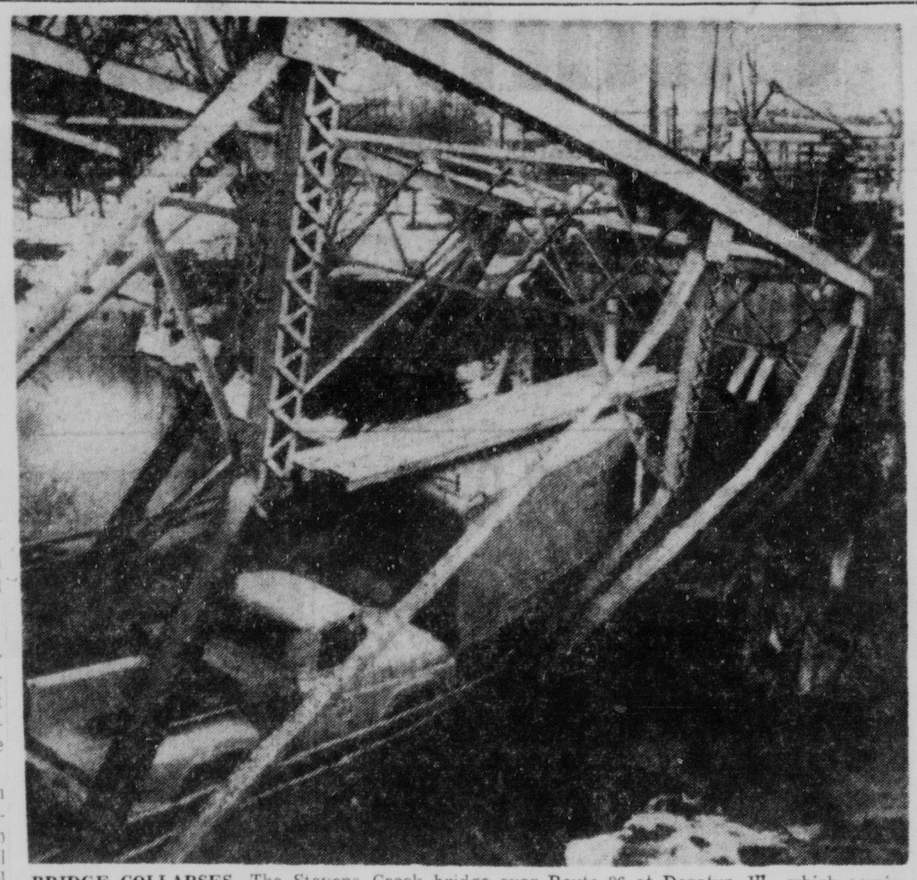

The measures also would:

—Make it a criminal offense for any person to rig or fix radio or TV programs involving a contest of knowledge or skill with the intent of intentionally deceiving the public.

—Require networks to obtain operating licenses from the Federal Communications Commission as is now the case with individual stations. The FCC's only control over the networks at present occurs indirectly through its supervision of network-owned stations.

—Direct the FCC to establish rules and regulations requiring the networks to exercise supervision and control over all material they supply to affiliated stations. This provision stems from a subcommittee charge that networks have surrendered control of programming to sponsors and advertising agencies.

—Prohibit payments to plug any product in a TV-radio program without an announcement telling who made the payment. This provision is designed to outlaw payola — the practice of undercover payments to disc jockeys and others to plug records and other products.

TFC Adopts Boat Licensing Regulations Under New Law

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Tidewater Fisheries Commission adopted regulations Wednesday for the numbering and licensing of Maryland boats under a new act signed into law by Gov. Tawes.

The action, subject to concurrence of the Game and Inland Fish Commission and final approval by the Coast Guard, starts setting up the machinery under which the boat act will take effect June 1.

The licensing regulations were worked out Tuesday by the State Boat Act advisory committee, a group made up of conservation agency officials and power and sailboat representatives, and were unanimously adopted by the TFC.

The advisory committee will begin preparing safety regulations next week. All of these must be advertised publicly for a 30-day period after their formal adoption by the two commissions.

Regulations approved Wednesday cover the numbering pattern to be used for boats, information to be contained in the application for such a number, information to be included on the certificate issued by the TFC to licensed boat owners, and information to be included in reports of boat accidents to the TFC.

Owners of boats using motors of more than 7½ horsepower and owners of sailboats over 25 feet long must register them with the department by June 1. A $6 license fee will cover a three-year period.

Experts Report Dynamite Blast Wrecked Plane

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—Destruction of a National Airlines plane which crashed near Bolivia, N.C., Jan. 6 "was the result of an explosion of dynamite."

A team of experts made this finding in a report read Wednesday at a Civil Aeronautics Board inquiry into the cause of the crash which killed 34 persons.

The board itself will issue a report later with its findings of the probable cause.

The inquiry board also was told evidence indicated the blast occurred "in close proximity to and immediately behind the legs" of Julian A. Frank, 32-year-old New York attorney who had taken out life insurance totaling more than a million dollars.

At the close of the hearing, which began Tuesday, Alexander Hardy, senior vice president for National Airlines, asked the CAB officials if any investigations had been made to determine "whether passenger Julian Frank left any suicide notes or to determine his state of mind" when he boarded the New York-to-Miami airliner.

John L. McWhorter, CAB hearing officer, told Hardy such investigations are the responsibility of other government agencies — such as the FBI.

David L. Marks, New York lawyer representing Mrs. Frank, attended the hearing. He told newsmen proofs of Frank's death had been submitted to insurance companies in an effort to collect on his insurance.

Marks said he knew of no evidence of anyone wishing to kill Frank. He added the FBI "is checking all possibilities and that's certainly one of them."

Observers Give Kennedy Edge In Wisconsin Race

By RELMAN MORIN

RACINE, Wis. (AP)—Pollsters, politicians, and plain crystal-gazers generally agreed Wednesday that Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) is running ahead in the race for votes in the Wisconsin presidential primary.

Kennedy is battling Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) in the election, set for April 5.

At this stage of the campaign, most observers are giving Kennedy the edge. A few go so far as to say he will sweep all 10 of the state's congressional districts. Others feel that Humphrey will win only two districts in the northwest, adjoining his home state.

They may be right, but there are other things to consider.

A doorbell-ringing tour and telephone cross-checking in areas where Kennedy is supposed to be strongest brought some surprising results. A recent survey by this reporter in Racine, Kenosha and suburbs of Milwaukee indicated:

1. An unexpected number of voters have not yet decided between Humphrey and Kennedy.

2. Although Humphrey comes from a neighboring state, Kennedy seems to be better known in Wisconsin.

Four out of five of those questioned said they had seen Kennedy's picture in newspapers or magazines, or had their attention drawn to him by numerous appearances here of members of his family. The public image of Humphrey appears less well defined.

3. Kennedy is a Roman Catholic and the discussion of his religion in relation to the presidency has focussed considerable attention on him.

4. Humphrey ran slightly ahead of Kennedy in checks among factory workers in Racine and Kenosha.

The campaign is hottest in the industrial areas of Wisconsin. Very few working men gave the "haven't-made-up-my-mind" reply to this reporter.

At the moment, it appears that the battle for the labor vote may be much closer than has been thought.

Kennedy got off to a faster start than Humphrey. But the Minnesotan's organization seems to be clicking now, and his campaign is in high gear.

Better Housing In W.Va. Subject Of Discussion

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Better housing at lower costs for West Virginia home buyers will be the subject of a panel discussion of the West Virginia Housing Symposium Thursday.

Panelists will include B. T. Fitzpatrick, housing advisor to the cities of New York, Chicago and Washington and Clarence E. Moran, executive director of the Charleston Urban Renewal Authority. Moderator will be Evan L. Harris, Charleston building contractor.

Nuns Of New Order Wear Modern Garb

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Most everybody pictures a nun in a dark habit and a veil. Not the new order of the Byzantine Catholic Sisters of Christ the Teacher. They'll dress in modern style.

The order will be founded Sunday with four young nuns forming the nucleus. They will wear a navy blue two-piece suit, with a flared skirt, white blouse, tailored coat, pill box style hat, pump-style shoes and dark gloves.

The only distinction from any other women on the street will be an emblem of their order on the coat, jacket or hat. It's a white cross with the Greek words: "Icxc Nika," Jesus Christ conquers. These same words are imprinted on the sacred hosts used in the divine liturgy of the Mass.

Hen Becomes Rooster

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Government agriculture officials say a hen that laid 204 eggs during a recent contest has turned into a rooster. The owner speculated the change was due to an over supply of male hormones.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actor Audie Murphy, most decorated U.S. serviceman during World War II, and his wife announced their separation Wednesday after nine years of marriage.

Murphy, 35, has left the couple's North Hollywood home and moved to his ranch near Perris, Calif. A spokesman said neither Murphy nor his wife, Pamela, contemplated filing for divorce at this time.

The couple had separated last year, but reunited after a few days.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Most everybody pictures a nun in a dark habit and a veil. Not the new order of the Byzantine Catholic Sisters of Christ the Teacher. They'll dress in modern style.

The order will be founded Sunday with four young nuns forming the nucleus. They will wear a navy blue two-piece suit, with a flared skirt, white blouse, tailored coat, pill box style hat, pump-style shoes and dark gloves.

The only distinction from any other women on the street will be an emblem of their order on the coat, jacket or hat. It's a white cross with the Greek words: "Icxc Nika." Jesus Christ conquers. These same words are imprinted on the sacred hosts used in the divine liturgy of the Mass.

Hen Becomes Rooster

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Government agriculture officials say a hen that laid 204 eggs during a recent contest has turned into a rooster. The owner speculated the change was due to an over supply of male hormones.

Dams Urged To Prevent 'Dry' Potomac On Western Outskirts Of Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — A continued population growth of the Washington metropolitan area may result in a dry Potomac River on the western edge of the city. That is the warning of Brig. Gen. Thomas H. Lipscomb, head of the Army Engineer North Atlantic Division.

What's more, he said, the river between Washington and Chesapeake Bay might become little more than a salt-water swamp.

The water expert expressed his views at a meeting Tuesday of the Potomac River Development Assn.

But, the general said, the situation can be prevented by the construction of two dams in the Great Falls area above Washington and 10 other dams in the upper regions of the river at a total cost of 230 million dollars.

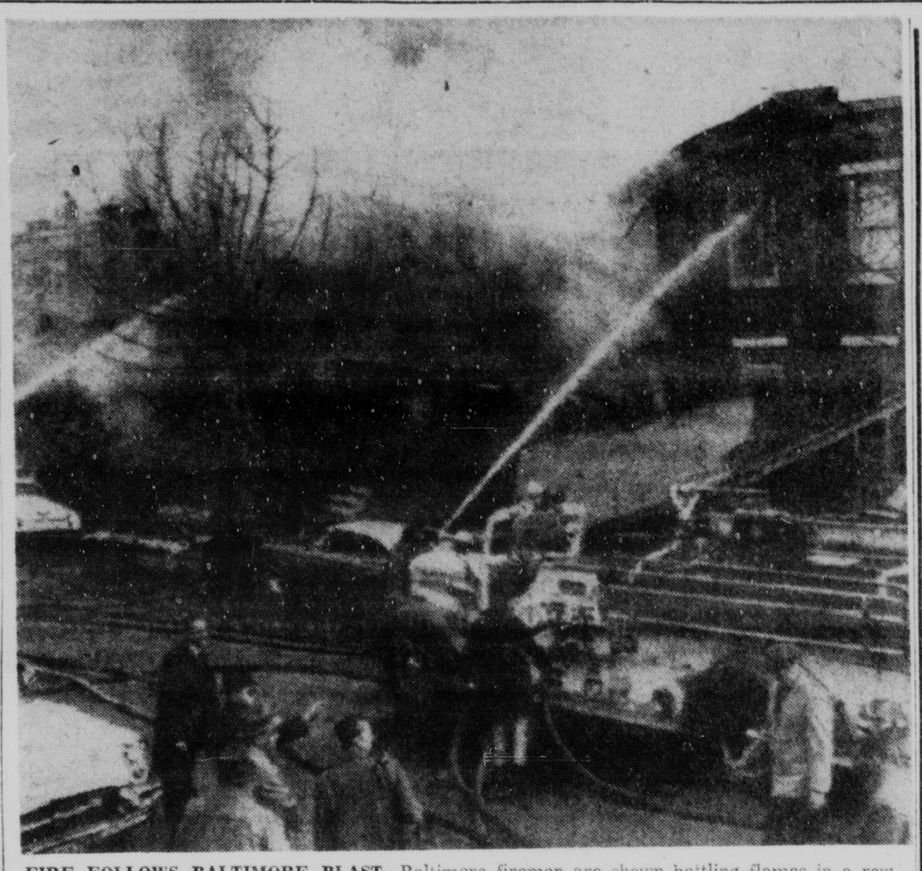

Such construction, he predicted, would take care of the water supply and pollution needs of the Potomac Basin until 2010.

If flood control and recreational facilities were added, the cost would be increased by about 70 million dollars, he said.

The general said the Washington metropolitan area now has a population of about 2,100,000 persons. At the present rate of growth, the population will be about 3,000,000 in 1975, he said. And when that day arrives, he predicted, water will be consumed as fast as it flows into the two dams that now serve the area.

He said that in response to a congressional directive a new survey of the water situation is being conducted by his office and should be concluded in a year or two.

The survey, he said, has probed two other possibilities: Tapping ground-water sources and desalting Chesapeake Bay water. The tapping of ground water, he said, would provide only a fraction of the needs and would not provide for pollution abatement. Desalting is possible, but it would cause the wholesale price of water to be 10 to 20 times that of water drawn from reservoirs. Furthermore, it too would not provide for pollution abatement.

Woman Injured By Robber Sues

BALTIMORE (AP)—A one million dollar damage action was filed here Wednesday against the Lexington Market Authority by a woman injured when attacked by a robber after parking her auto on authority property.

The action was brought in Superior Court by Mrs. Charlotte Ross, who underwent emergency treatment after the attack last March 12.

The suit charged the authority failed to provide reasonable safeguards and protection by allowing an unaccompanied woman up a ramp to park her car. The garage employes were aware another woman had been attacked and injured five days before by a purse snatcher, the suit said.

Mrs. Ross said she not only suffered disfiguring wounds of the face and neck, but her lung was punctured by a stab wound. She said she also suffered severe nervous reaction.

No formal charges have been entered yet against the alleged assailant. A preliminary hearing has been postponed until March 29.

Toll Expressway Plan Is Considered By SRC

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maryland roads officials decided Wednesday to build the 48-mile Northeastern Expressway between here and the Delaware line as a toll highway, if possible.

They said this plan could result in the opening of the 48-mile expressway to traffic by the end of 1962 — eight to 10 years ahead of present scheduling.

The expressway, which will roughly parallel U. S. 40 and is expected to cost between 80 and 90 million dollars, has been contemplated as part of Maryland's link in the federally financed Interstate Highway System. Toll facilities are disqualified from such government aid.

But the State Roads Commission voted unanimously at its afternoon session to move toward construction of the road as a toll highway.

The first step will be a detailed traffic, engineering and financial survey to determine whether there are any insurmountable obstacles to the plan.

John B.Funk, chairman-director of the commission, gave these reasons for the action by his agency:

1. As part of the planned interstate system, the expressway "would be in competition for federal funds with other sorely needed interstate projects" in Maryland.

2. This factor, plus recent cutbacks in interstate funds released by the government, "would put the completion date for the Northeastern Expressway in the 1970s."

Bay Yields Body Of Missing Flier

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (AP)— The body of J. Harold Sharpe, a Salisbury, Md., feed and broiler company executive, was found Wednesday washed up on shore.

Sharpe's light plane crashed in Chesapeake Bay last Dec. 29 on a flight from Burlington, N. C. to Salisbury. The wreckage of the plane was found on Jan. 11 off the Eastern Shore near Hooper Island.

John Taylor found the body on the beach near the small community of Wenona, Somerset County, about 2 p. m. He notified an undertaker who identified the body by papers in his pocket and notified State Police.

A body found in the bay last Saturday at first was thought to be Sharpe. But an investigation proved it was not. Authorities still are trying to learn the identity of that person.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fourth and fifth graders in Illinois, New York and Massachusetts have solved a research problem by hitting the typewriter keys for a year.

The 600 select students were watched by educational sleuths while they used portable typewriters. The question the educators sought to answer: Does a typewriter have a positive effect on general educational achievement?

The answer is "yes" — according to reports submitted by researchers from Columbia University Teachers College, Boston University and the University of Illinois.

During the research, involving pupils of 30 classrooms in seven cities, the educational experts found:

—The manual portable typewriter can be used effectively in improving work habits, developing skill in English mechanics and improving the writing of compositions.

—The use of typewriters stimulates fourth and fifth grade children to prepare longer and more comprehensive reports in various subjects, especially in English and social studies. It also stimulates creativity in writing.

—The children using typewriters show more improvement in various types of word skills than do pupils not using typewriters.

—Children can learn in a brief time to operate the manual typewriter at speeds two to three times their handwriting speeds.

The educational researchers making the report said that teachers of the classes reported that the typewriters were valuable as teaching tools and said they would like to have them as a permanent part of their classroom equipment.

The project at Columbia was under the direction of Dr. Lawrence W. Erickson; at Illinois University's College of Education, Dr. Walter J. Moore; and at Boston University's School of Education, Dr. Donald D. Durrell.

All three reports described as enthusiastic the children who used the typewriters. Typical comments of the children when asked to write their reactions at the end of the project:

"I like the typewriter because it helped me get my work done faster and easier."

"It helps me in spelling and my reports."

"It makes your work neater than with a pencil."

Meatless Lenten Menus Come From Many Lands

By CLAIRE COX

NEW YORK (UPI) — Housewives running out of meatless menus for Lent are being given a helping hand with gourmet recipes from many lands.

Demetria Taylor, a home economist writing in the Catholic Digest, reports that housewives in Roman Catholic countries have no trouble at all in turning out tasty dishes made of fish, eggs and cheese.

"North America, on the other hand, is a country of meat eaters," she said. "The average American doesn't count it dinner unless the entree is steak or beef."

Miss Taylor said American families often grumble at overcooked fish, tough fried eggs on drab macaroni in lumpy cheese sauce. With a little time and effort, she said, the tastiest of dishes can be turned out.

From France, for instance comes a recipe for Coquilles St.-Jacunques. This is made with sea scallops, white wine, mushrooms, cheese and various herbs and spices.

A Neapolitan omelet is Italy's contribution to the menu. Its ingredients include 3 cups of left-over spaghetti with meatless tomato sauce, 4 lightly beaten eggs, ⅛ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 2 tablespoons shredded permesan cheese, 2 tablespoons olive oil and 1 garlic clove.

To cook, mix the spaghetti, chopped up, with the other ingredients and cook in a frying pan.

A Hungarian contribution to meatless cookery is a fish-potato casserole, made by spreading mashed potatoes topped with sour cream, minced onions and bread crumbs on the bottom of a greased dish. Arrange salted and peppered fish fillets on this, sprinkle with more bread crumbs and cheese and top with sour cream. Bake in a 350-degree over for 20 to 30 minutes.

A Spanish omelet also was recommended by Miss Taylor, but she was careful to note that this version of the omelet bears no relationship to what Americans cook as a Spanish omelet.

In Sapin, an omelet by that name is more like what Americans call a Western omelet. It is made with potatoes fried along with the eggs.

Poles like fish so well they eat it on feast days as well as during fasts. One of their favorite fish dishes is called koletki. It is made with 2 or 3 slices of white bread soaked in milk and mixed with a can of flaked salmon, 3 tablespoons of melted butter, ⅛ teaspoon of pepper and 1 teaspoon of nutmeg.

This mixture is chilled and then shaped into cakes, which are floured and sauteed in butter. A cucumber and yogurt sauce is recommended to go with it.

Ireland has made its contribution to meatless days, too with colcannon, made of a mixture of a chopped large onion browned in butter and then mixed with 1 cup of chopped cooked cabbage and 1 cup of mashed potatoes. These are heated and then spread in a greased shallow baking dish and sprinkled with bread crumbs and cheese, topped with dots of butter. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes or until brown. It can be served with or without a tomato sauce.

Belgium's cheese tart also was recommended. This is made first by lining a 9-inch pie plate with piecrust pastry. This is sprinkled with ½ pound of grated Swiss cheese mixed with 1 tablespoon of flour. Next, combine 3 well beaten eggs, 1 cup of milk and salt and pepper to taste and pour over the cheese.

Bake 15 minutes at 400 degrees and then reduce for 30 minutes to 325 degrees. It is done when a knife can be inserted and be removed clean.

This dish is good after tomato soup. It can be served with sweet-sour cucumber slices, buttered sliced beets, Brussel sprouts and hot French bread.

Outlook For Pennsy Reported Improved

NEW YORK (UPI)—The 1960 outlook for the Pennsylvania Railroad "is still far from satisfactory" but is better than the two previous years, Chairman James M. Symes said in the annual report mailed to stockholders Tuesday.

"Improved earnings are contingent upon a continuation of the present upturn in business and a successful conclusion to the negotiations with the brotherhoods without any prolonged strike or inflationary wage increases," the year-end statement said.

"While 1960 promises only modest improvement, the outlook for the long pull is encouraging," it concluded.

As previously reported the Pennsy earned $7,267,135 or 55 cents a share as against $3,544,073 or 27 a share in 1958. Gross income totaled $915,598,174 as compared with $885,831,432 in the previous year.

The deficit from passenger operations was cut from $44 million in 1958 to $37,700,000 last year, the annual report showed.

CHICAGO (UPI) — A leading banker Wednesday attacked a bill before the U. S. Senate which would require full disclosure of leanding rates and other charges arising from consumer purchases.

It took more than 35 thousand years for the Niagara river to cut the seven-mile channel from Queenstown to where the falls now are.

Accused Robber Kayos Asst. D.A.

NEW YORK (UPI) — An accused robber knocked unconscious an assistant district attorney with one punch in a Manhattan courtroom Tuesday.

John D. Thompson, 23, a laborer, punched at Burton B. Roberts, 37, in General Sessions Court while Judge Irwin D. Davidson was on the bench. Robert lay unconscious for two minutes bfore he was revived. Thompson was seized and held by four court attendants.

Thompson, a 210-pound robbery suspect, attacked the prosecutor shortly after judge Davidson had set Friday for the start of Thompson's trial.

Roberts, who weighs 170 pounds, was hit behind the left ear and went down.

Thompson was indicted Oct. 1 in the $45 holdup of a cab driver.

NEW YORK (AP)—A new type of stocks — the "supergrowth" stocks — is having a sharp impace on the market, a financial analyst says.

The ultraglamourous issues are in electronics, automation, science and special fields.

Investors Research Co. sees their influence in the way in which the market has been behaving since the start of the year.

"What is happening, rather than liquidation of stocks in general," says the analyst, "is a tremendous shift of investment capital out of the growth vehicles of the past 15 years.

"And it is flowing, gradually but surely, into what may be broadly termed the 'supergrowth' stocks of the future.

"Look at the securities that are taking a whipping in the market. They are not the high priced issues selling at big multiples of earnings. These are holding magnificently. The real liquidation is occurring in oils, papers, coppers, airlines and, to some extent, the chemicals."

Investors Research points out that oils, papers and chemicals have been the big growth stocks of the past 15 years and comprise 25 to 45 per cent of the holdings of institutional investors.

"But now," the firm says, "a new kind of maverick has appeared on the investment horizon which offers a serious challenge to the leaders of the past.

"It is the 'super' stock which promises growth far above the secular trend of the economy.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fourth and fifth graders in Illinois, New York and Massachusetts have solved a research problem by hitting the typewriter keys for a year.

The 600 select students were watched by educational sleuths while they used portable typewriters. The question the educators sought to answer: Does a typewriter have a positive effect on general educational achievement?

The answer is "yes" — according to reports submitted by researchers from Columbia University Teachers College, Boston University and the University of Illinois.

During the research, involving pupils of 30 classrooms in seven cities, the educational experts found:

—The manual portable typewriter can be used effectively in improving work habits, developing skill in English mechanics and improving the writing of compositions.

—The use of typewriters stimulates fourth and fifth grade children to prepare longer and more comprehensive reports in various subjects, especially in English and social studies. It also stimulates creativity in writing.

—The children using typewriters show more improvement in various types of word skills than do pupils not using typewriters.

—Children can learn in a brief time to operate the manual typewriter at speeds two to three times their handwriting speeds.

The educational researchers making the report said that teachers of the classes reported that the typewriters were valuable as teaching tools and said they would like to have them as a permanent part of their classroom equipment.

The project at Columbia was under the direction of Dr. Lawrence W. Erickson; at Illinois University's College of Education, Dr. Walter J. Moore; and at Boston University's School of Education, Dr. Donald D. Durrell.

All three reports described as enthusiastic the children who used the typewriters. Typical comments of the children when asked to write their reactions at the end of the project:

"I like the typewriter because it helped me get my work done faster and easier."

"It helps me in spelling and my reports."

"It makes your work neater than with a pencil."

THINK IT'LL WORK, DOC?—Wolf, an 11-year-old registered German shepherd, seems a little skeptical of the walking device which Dr. Herman F. Dieterich tries on him at a clinic at Richardson, near Dallas, Tex. Wolf, owned by William J. Kent, of Dallas, is the victim of a progressive creeping paralysis which has made his hind legs almost useless. His owner and the veterinarian decided to try the walker to help the dog get around. Record Price Portrait

LONDON (UPI)—A Gainsborough portrait was sold Wednesday for 130,000 pounds ($365,000)—the highest price ever paid for an English painting — at Sotheby's Auction Gallery.

The painting, a portrait of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Andrews, was bought by London art dealer Agnew's.

Resume Meetings

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Representatives of the Screen Actors Guild (SAG) and the seven major motion picture studios resume meetings Thursday in "continuing negotiation sessions" aimed at halting the 17-day actors' strike.

Meatless Lenten Menus Come From Many Lands

By CLAIRE COX

NEW YORK (UPI) — Housewives running out of meatless menus for Lent are being given a helping hand with gourmet recipes from many lands.

Demetria Taylor, a home economist writing in the Catholic Digest, reports that housewives in Roman Catholic countries have no trouble at all in turning out tasty dishes made of fish, eggs and cheese.

"North America, on the other hand, is a country of meat eaters," she said. "The average American doesn't count it dinner unless the entree is steak or beef."

Miss Taylor said American families often grumble at overcooked fish, tough fried eggs on drab macaroni in lumpy cheese sauce. With a little time and effort, she said, the tastiest of dishes can be turned out.

From France, for instance comes a recipe for Coquilles St.-Jacunques. This is made with sea scallops, white wine, mushrooms, cheese and various herbs and spices.

A Neapolitan omelet is Italy's contribution to the menu. Its ingredients include 3 cups of left-over spaghetti with meatless tomato sauce, 4 lightly beaten eggs, ⅛ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 2 tablespoons shredded permesan cheese, 2 tablespoons olive oil and 1 garlic clove.

To cook, mix the spaghetti, chopped up, with the other ingredients and cook in a frying pan.

A Hungarian contribution to meatless cookery is a fish-potato casserole, made by spreading mashed potatoes topped with sour cream, minced onions and bread crumbs on the bottom of a greased dish. Arrange salted and peppered fish fillets on this, sprinkle with more bread crumbs and cheese and top with sour cream. Bake in a 350-degree over for 20 to 30 minutes.

A Spanish omelet also was recommended by Miss Taylor, but she was careful to note that this version of the omelet bears no relationship to what Americans cook as a Spanish omelet.

In Sapin, an omelet by that name is more like what Americans call a Western omelet. It is made with potatoes fried along with the eggs.

Poles like fish so well they eat it on feast days as well as during fasts. One of their favorite fish dishes is called koletki. It is made with 2 or 3 slices of white bread soaked in milk and mixed with a can of flaked salmon, 3 tablespoons of melted butter, ⅛ teaspoon of pepper and 1 teaspoon of nutmeg.

This mixture is chilled and then shaped into cakes, which are floured and sauteed in butter. A cucumber and yogurt sauce is recommended to go with it.

Ireland has made its contribution to meatless days, too with colcannon, made of a mixture of a chopped large onion browned in butter and then mixed with 1 cup of chopped cooked cabbage and 1 cup of mashed potatoes. These are heated and then spread in a greased shallow baking dish and sprinkled with bread crumbs and cheese, topped with dots of butter. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes or until brown. It can be served with or without a tomato sauce.

Belgium's cheese tart also was recommended. This is made first by lining a 9-inch pie plate with piecrust pastry. This is sprinkled with ½ pound of grated Swiss cheese mixed with 1 tablespoon of flour. Next, combine 3 well beaten eggs, 1 cup of milk and salt and pepper to taste and pour over the cheese.

Bake 15 minutes at 400 degrees and then reduce for 30 minutes to 325 degrees. It is done when a knife can be inserted and be removed clean.

This dish is good after tomato soup. It can be served with sweet-sour cucumber slices, buttered sliced beets, Brussel sprouts and hot French bread.

Outlook For Pennsy Reported Improved

NEW YORK (UPI)—The 1960 outlook for the Pennsylvania Railroad "is still far from satisfactory" but is better than the two previous years, Chairman James M. Symes said in the annual report mailed to stockholders Tuesday.

"Improved earnings are contingent upon a continuation of the present upturn in business and a successful conclusion to the negotiations with the brotherhoods without any prolonged strike or inflationary wage increases," the year-end statement said.

"While 1960 promises only modest improvement, the outlook for the long pull is encouraging," it concluded.

As previously reported the Pennsy earned $7,267,135 or 55 cents a share as against $3,544,073 or 27 a share in 1958. Gross income totaled $915,598,174 as compared with $883,631,432 in the previous year.

The deficit from passenger operations was cut from $44 million in 1958 to $37,700,000 last year, the annual report showed.

The Commonwealth of Nations is a community of independent nations and dependent or semi-dependent territories bound together by allegiance to the British sovereign as head of the commonwealth.

Attacks Senate Bill

CHICAGO (UPI) — A leading banker Wednesday attacked a bill before the U. S. Senate which would require full disclosure of leanding rates and other charges arising from consumer purchases.

Thomas C. Boushall, board chairman of the Bank of Virginia, Richmond, Va., predicted the bill would result in banks, merchants, lenders and vendors refusing to offer credit terms to prospective buyers and borrowers.

It took more than 35 thousand years for the Niagara river to cut the seven-mile channel from Queenstown to where the falls now are.

Accused Robber Kayos Asst. D.A.

NEW YORK (UPI) — An accused robber knocked unconscious an assistant district attorney with one punch in a Manhattan courtroom Tuesday.

John D. Thompson, 23, a laborer, punched at Burton B. Roberts, 37, in General Sessions Court while Judge Irwin D. Davidson was on the bench. Robert lay unconscious for two minutes bfore he was revived. Thompson was seized and held by four court attendants.

Thompson, a 210-pound robbery suspect, attacked the prosecutor shortly after judge Davidson had set Friday for the start of Thompson's trial.

Roberts, who weighs 170 pounds, was hit behind the left ear and went down.

Thompson was indicted Oct. 1 in the $45 holdup of a cab driver.

NEW YORK (AP)—A new type of stocks — the "supergrowth" stocks — is having a sharp impace on the market, a financial analyst says.

The ultraglamourous issues are in electronics, automation, science and special fields.

Investors Research Co. sees their influence in the way in which the market has been behaving since the start of the year.

"What is happening, rather than liquidation of stocks in general," says the analyst, "is a tremendous shift of investment capital out of the growth vehicles of the past 15 years.

"And it is flowing, gradually but surely, into what may be broadly termed the 'supergrowth' stocks of the future.

"Look at the securities that are taking a whipping in the market. They are not the high priced issues selling at big multiples of earnings. These are holding magnificently. The real liquidation is occurring in oils, papers, coppers, airlines and, to some extent, the chemicals."

Investors Research points out that oils, papers and chemicals have been the big growth stocks of the past 15 years and comprise 25 to 45 per cent of the holdings of institutional investors.

"But now," the firm says, "a new kind of maverick has appeared on the investment horizon which offers a serious challenge to the leaders of the past.

"It is the 'super' stock which promises growth far above the secular trend of the economy.

Grows 'Dagwood' Plant

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China Wednesday claimed to have produced the "Dagwood" sandwich of the plant world.

The Communist New China News Agency said boy botanist Ma Shang-Chao grew a three-layer plant, a combination of the tomato, potato, and eggplant.

Do-It-Yourself Census Gets Started Next Week

By WILLIAM J. EATON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's first do-it-yourself census —the biggest, costliest and speediest count of the U. S. population ever made — is about to begin.

An army of census-takers will start the tabulation shortly after dusk March 31. Before they are finished, they will have visited every home, apartment, prison, nudist camp and hobo jungle in the country.

More than 170,000 workers will be used to enumerate an estimated 180 million Americans and find out how they live and work. The job will cost Uncle Sam about $96,000,000 and produce more than 100,000 pages of reports that will give a 110-volume statistical portrait of the nation.

Raw figures will be processed by a battery of electronic brains to speed the results to the public and cut nearly a year off the time required to finish the 1960 census.

Millions of Americans will be enlisted for self - enumerating service — a precedent - breaking move designed to save time and improve accuracy.

The Census Bureau is mailing Advance Report Forms to nearly 60 million households. It hopes the forms will be filled out completely before the census - taker calls early in April.

Questions concerning names, addresses, sex, color or race, age and maritial status are asked of each person. Other inquiries on bathtubs, flush toilets, number of rooms and kitchen equipment also are listed.

Another detailed 10-page questionnaire seeking data on family income, radio and TV sets, air conditioners, schooling, commuting to work and other matters will be left at one out of every four homes.

This pale blue form is to be completed and mailed to the nearest census office within three days by the householder. Census officials believe avoiding face-to-face questioning on such sensitive topics as age and income will produce more accurate answers.

Replies to all census questions are held in confidence and cannot —, under the law — be used for purposes of taxation, investigation or regulation. Any government employe who breaks the secrecy rules faces a fine or jail term.

But answers are mandatory. Those who balk can be prosecuted — but the criminal penalties for refusing to answer census questions have never had to be invoked.

This once - a - decade headcount is required by the U. S. Constitution. Results are needed to allocate seats in the House of Representatives on the basis of each state's population.

Official estimates show that the West — led by California — will pick up seats at the expense of the East, Midwest and South. The revision in state representation will take effect in the 1962 Congressional elections.

Census figures also are used to split up federal-aid money among the states. Businessmen find the data valuable in planning plant relocations and making market surveys.

Many states use population as a basis for allocating seats in their legislatures and to determine the rights or duties of cities and towns. Military leaders require current manpower figures for mobilization planning.

Local Police Start Series Of Meetings

The first in a series of meetings by the "upper echelon" of the City Police Department was held yesterday with Police Commissioner Philmore F. Fleming.

According to the commissioner, the meeting was the outcome of the courses held recently at the Maryland State Police headquarters, Pikesville. It is expected that the meetings will be held on a monthly basis, Commissioner Fleming said.

Chief of Police B. F. Gaffney in commenting on the schooling said the 12 members of the department who attended the courses did credit to themselves, the police force and the city by the high marks they recorded.

Nine patrolmen were selected for the initial class. They were Donald Boggs, John S. Chaney, Charles E. Cubbage, John F. Daum, Harold Gibson, Roy C. Hawse, Wilbur E. Shank, Carl Williams and Clarence D. Valentine Jr.

Named to attend a class for supervisory officers were Patrolman Louis D. Downey, Lt. Donald H. Smith and Assistant Chief John E. Sherry.

Commissioner Fleming said the supervisory-level meetings have been inaugurated to apply the knowledge attained from the Maryland State Police courses, and for the continued progress of the department.

Your race to the 'phone can be traced in your talk!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

What Telephones Tell About You!

The telephone is a "tattle-tale" about the voice of a woman. Here she is judged by her sound, suspended in mid-air without any visible means of support in lip movements, facial expression, hand gestures—or a provocative hat! On the 'phone, she must speak so that both her voice and her personality may be amplified and understood.

Have you ever listened to yourself as you must sound to others on the 'phone? If you can have access to a tape recorder, take a listener's sample of your voice . . . and have your ear test the pitch, the volume, the melody and color, the breath control and enunciation. You may be in for quite a shock wave of sound!

Can this soft squeak be YOU? Or this breathless staccato? Is that grating whine really yours? Or, mumbling monotonously, do you sound flat, tired? Or, most shattering of all, is that booming baritone the reason so many of your callers ask, "May I please speak to your wife?"?

When you realize the sound of you speaks for more than itself, envision the voice you would LIKE other people to hear . . . and be determined to develop it! If you can, keep the tape of your voice recorded BEFORE training . . . and tape another, for comparison, AFTER a few weeks' vocal work. You'll notice a definite difference, an obvious improvement.

"Your Most Attractive Voice" is a booklet that describes all the vocal variations and the exercises to help you express them. I'll send you a copy if you will mail in ten cents with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me, c/o this newspaper.

Beginning now, before your booklet arrives, make yourself more keenly aware of the sounds around you—other voices as well as your own. Almost without effort — just by listening — you'll sharpen your sensitivity to musical inflection, to accurate pronunciation, to rich resonance, to carrying power and clarity.

And try the "telephone test" when friends call you. Take each familiar voice away from your impression of the caller's appearance. You will sense, in many cases, a voice-personality totally different from the person you know so well. Then, let your ear print a sound-picture of strangers who telephone you. You'll soon begin to recognize the reason for so many "poor connections," so many unflattering phone impressions, however untrue.

Ears tuned, apply all you hear —or don't hear—to yourself. To your diaphragm, to your diction . . . and to the distinctive (and distinct) sound of YOU.

Ben-Gurion Returns

LONDON (UPI)—Israeli Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion left Britain for Israel Wednesday at the end of a seven-day private visit.

Garrett Has Record 'Missed' School

Weather conditions forced cancellation of classes again yesterday in Garrett County, bringing the total of "missed" days to 11 for the 1959-60 term.

Willard L. Hawkins, superintendent of Garrett schools, said the total is believed to be a record for the county, explaining that the number of days lost due to weather averages around three or four.

Classes will be held as usual today.

The unusually high total has resulted in extending the school calendar a full week, the superintendent said. Originally scheduled to close on Monday, June 6, Garrett County schools now will hold classes through Monday, June 13, Hawkins said.

An effort also will be made to make up a number of the lost days by conducting classes on Saturdays, the superintendent stated. The innovation will be inaugurated this week, he continued, with a full day's schedule of classes.

If the plan works out, Hawkins said at least three of the days will be "picked up" by Saturday classes.

The school calendar called for a 184-day term. Hawkins said one of the days, April 1, is reserved for a meeting of the county teachers, thus giving the county a three-day leeway over the 180-day term required by state regulations.

The superintendent pointed out that Garrett schools have been closed for four or five days at a time in prior years. The problem this year has been aggravated by almost constant snow in the past five or six weeks, and high winds that have drifted closed county roads.

So far, Hawkins points out, there have been 105 inches of snow, with 30 inches of that amount recorded thus far in March. The precipitation this month, and accompanying high winds, have caused the worst March weather in the past five or six years.

The superintendent said only one day was lost to weather conditions before the Christmas holidays. The remaining 10 days largely have been localized in the past few weeks.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, bedridden the the last eight weeks because of a urological disorder, has resumed a normal diet and now is permitted to take short walks in Lenox Hill Hospital, it was announced Wednesday.

The Army, in announcing the general's improved condition, said it no longer would issue daily medical bulletins.

Local Police Start Series Of Meetings

The first in a series of meetings by the "upper echelon" of the City Police Department was held yesterday with Police Commissioner Philmore F. Fleming.

According to the commissioner, the meeting was the outcome of the courses held recently at the Maryland State Police headquarters, Pikesville. It is expected that the meetings will be held on a monthly basis, Commissioner Fleming said.

Chief of Police B. F. Gaffney in commenting on the schooling said the 12 members of the department who attended the courses did credit to themselves, the police force and the city by the high marks they recorded.

Nine patrolmen were selected for the initial class. They were Donald Boggs, John S. Chaney, Charles E. Cubbage, John F. Daum, Harold Gibson, Roy C. Hawse, Wilbur E. Shank, Carl Williams and Clarence D. Valentine Jr.

Named to attend a class for supervisory officers were Patrolman Louis D. Downey, Lt. Donald H. Smith and Assistant Chief John E. Sherry.

Commissioner Fleming said the supervisory-level meetings have been inaugurated to apply the knowledge attained from the Maryland State Police courses, and for the continued progress of the department.

Your race to the 'phone can be traced in your talk!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

What Telephones Tell About You!

The telephone is a "tattle-tale" about the voice of a woman. Here she is judged by her sound, suspended in mid-air without any visible means of support in lip movements, facial expression, hand gestures—or a provocative hat! On the 'phone, she must speak so that both her voice and her personality may be amplified and understood.

Have you ever listened to yourself as you must sound to others on the 'phone? If you can have access to a tape recorder, take a listener's sample of your voice . . . and have your ear test the pitch, the volume, the melody and color, the breath control and enunciation. You may be in for quite a shock wave of sound!

Can this soft squeak be YOU? Or this breathless staccato? Is that grating whine really yours? Or, mumbling monotonously, do you sound flat, tired? Or, most shattering of all, is that booming baritone the reason so many of your callers ask, "May I please speak to your wife?"?

When you realize the sound of you speaks for more than itself, envision the voice you would LIKE other people to hear . . . and be determined to develop it! If you can, keep the tape of your voice recorded BEFORE training . . . and tape another, for comparison, AFTER a few weeks' vocal work. You'll notice a definite difference, an obvious improvement.

"Your Most Attractive Voice" is a booklet that describes all the vocal variations and the exercises to help you express them. I'll send you a copy if you will mail in ten cents with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me, c/o this newspaper.

Beginning now, before your booklet arrives, make yourself more keenly aware of the sounds around you—other voices as well as your own. Almost without effort — just by listening — you'll sharpen your sensitivity to musical inflection, to accurate pronunciation, to rich resonance, to carrying power and clarity.

And try the "telephone test" when friends call you. Take each familiar voice away from your impression of the caller's appearance. You will sense, in many cases, a voice-personality totally different from the person you know so well. Then, let your ear print a sound-picture of strangers who telephone you. You'll soon begin to recognize the reason for so many "poor connections," so many unflattering phone impressions, however untrue.

Ears tuned, apply all you hear —or don't hear—to yourself. To your diaphragm, to your diction . . . and to the distinctive (and distinct) sound of YOU.

Governor Signs Bills, Is Given An Opium Pipe

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gov. Tawes signed some new laws for Maryland Wednesday and was given an opium pipe.

The pipe was presented to the governor by Mrs. Bertha D. Baldwin after he signed an act authorizing judges to commit narcotics addicts to hospitals for treatment.

Mrs. Baldwin, assistant to the Baltimore district supervisor of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics, said the gift was a token of appreciation by her agency for Maryland's cooperation in drug law enforcement.

The bill was one of 82 pieces of legislation receiving Tawes' signature during an informal, 45-minute ceremony in his 15th floor suite of the State Office Building.

Others on the list, which was released for publication Tuesday, included the state's $477,080,196 budget for next fiscal year and a $20,268,000 loan program to finance construction of and improvements to state buildings.

Also among the 72 acts and 10 joint resolutions signed were three bills aimed at legalizing the assessment of farmland at lower rates than those for nearby areas such as shopping centers and housing developments.

Besides Mrs. Baldwin, unofficial observers at the ceremony included a group of yachting enthusiasts who came to witness the signing of an act requiring the registration of boats. Sailing vessels under 25 feet and powerboats of less than 7½ horsepower are exempt.

As Mrs. Baldwin stepped forward, unwrapping the opium pipe, Senate President George W. Della (D-Balto 6th) evinced curiosity.

The narcotics agent explained that the pipe, seized in a Baltimore raid, was for the governor.

"Maybe it'll help him dream his troubles away," she laughed.

The governor smiled and listened with interest as Mrs. Baldwin described in detail how one smokes an opium pipe.

"Thank you for this . . ." he began, and hesitated . . . "unusual gift."

Others participating in the session included House Speaker Perry O. Wilkinson (D-Prince Georges), Senate Secretary J. Waters Parrish, and House Chief Clerk James M. Mause.

City Will Sell Buildings At Lake

The City Water Department wants to sell several buildings located on the Wagner farm in the Lake Gordon area.

Franklin J. Blaney, sanitary engineer, said the buildings to be cleared from the site include a house, barn, shed and garage.

He said bids will be accepted at City Hall or at the superintendent's residence at the filter plant.

A number of other buildings have been cleared from the watershed this year due to deterioration and in accordance with a plan to remove all possible sources of water contamination.

Housing Notes Sold For 2.21% Interest

The Housing Authority of the City of Cumberland this week sold $805,000 of short-term notes to the Chemical Bank and Trust Company, New York, for 2.21 per cent interest.

The only other bid entered on the issue was by the Morgan Guaranty Trust Company, New York, for 2.38 per cent.

The notes will be dated April 12 and be payable on June 10. They are being issued to secure funds toward the construction of Fort Cumberland Homes, the city's third public housing project.

Eisenberger Wins Insurance Sales Honors

J. D. Eisenberger, Cumberland representative of The Lincoln National Life Insurance Company and a member of the P. T. Seibert Agency, gained national recognition for his personal production record for February, it has just been announced by Henry W. Persons, vice president and director of agencies.

Phone Firm Asks Hike In Rates

BALTIMORE (AP)—Telephone company officials, laying the base of their request for higher rates in Maryland, said Wednesday the firm has earned 10½ million dollars less than authorized since 1945.

W. Griffin Morrel, vice president of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co., made the statement as the Public Service Commission opened its hearing on the rate request.

The amount of increase being sought in Maryland rates was not specified. The company is expected to take two more days to present its case.

But the commission was told that there has been no "complete overhaul" of the company's rate base. This is the figure which represents the company's total investment, and the PSC is required to approve rates which will produce a fair return on that investment.

The C & P application for new rates was filed last April.

Rudolf A. Carrico, whose duty as people's counsel is to represent the public at these hearings, said at that time the rates already being charged by the company had produced profits six million dollars higher than the approved rates had been calculated to produce.

The PSC ruled last month it has no authority to order a refund under such circumstances. Legislation to give it such authority died in the 1960 Legislature. Carrico said he was considering appealing the PSC ruling to the courts or seeking the introduction of new legislation on the issue in 1961.

Four Dwelling Permits Issued

Tags of $6,000 each were placed on the other two houses. Gene G. Keister, Cresap Park, was issued a permit to build a brick house in Election District 7. Raymond E. Ogden, 997 National Highway, LaVale, was issued the other permit for a frame stucco dwelling in Election District 29.

Governor Signs Bills, Is Given An Opium Pipe

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gov. Tawes signed some new laws for Maryland Wednesday and was given an opium pipe.

The pipe was presented to the governor by Mrs. Bertha D. Baldwin after he signed an act authorizing judges to commit narcotics addicts to hospitals for treatment.

Mrs. Baldwin, assistant to the Baltimore district supervisor of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics, said the gift was a token of appreciation by her agency for Maryland's cooperation in drug law enforcement.

The bill was one of 82 pieces of legislation receiving Tawes' signature during an informal, 45-minute ceremony in his 15th floor suite of the State Office Building.

Others on the list, which was released for publication Tuesday, included the state's $477,080,196 budget for next fiscal year and a $20,268,000 loan program to finance construction of and improvements to state buildings.

Also among the 72 acts and 10 joint resolutions signed were three bills aimed at legalizing the assessment of farmland at lower rates than those for nearby areas such as shopping centers and housing developments.

Besides Mrs. Baldwin, unofficial observers at the ceremony included a group of yachting enthusiasts who came to witness the signing of an act requiring the registration of boats. Sailing vessels under 25 feet and powerboats of less than 7½ horsepower are exempt.

As Mrs. Baldwin stepped forward, unwrapping the opium pipe, Senate President George W. Della (D-Balto 6th) evinced curiosity.

The narcotics agent explained that the pipe, seized in a Baltimore raid, was for the governor.

"Maybe it'll help him dream his troubles away," she laughed.

The governor smiled and listened with interest as Mrs. Baldwin described in detail how one smokes an opium pipe.

"Thank you for this . . ." he began, and hesitated . . . "unusual gift."

Others participating in the session included House Speaker Perry O. Wilkinson (D-Prince Georges), Senate Secretary J. Waters Parrish, and House Chief Clerk James M. Mause.

City Will Sell Buildings At Lake

The City Water Department wants to sell several buildings located on the Wagner farm in the Lake Gordon area.

Franklin J. Blaney, sanitary engineer, said the buildings to be cleared from the site include a house, barn, shed and garage.

He said bids will be accepted at City Hall or at the superintendent's residence at the filter plant.

A number of other buildings have been cleared from the watershed this year due to deterioration and in accordance with a plan to remove all possible sources of water contamination.

Phone Firm Asks Hike In Rates

BALTIMORE (AP)—Telephone company officials, laying the base of their request for higher rates in Maryland, said Wednesday the firm has earned 10½ million dollars less than authorized since 1945.

W. Griffin Morrel, vice president of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co., made the statement as the Public Service Commission opened its hearing on the rate request.

The amount of increase being sought in Maryland rates was not specified. The company is expected to take two more days to present its case.

But the commission was told that there has been no "complete overhaul" of the company's rate base. This is the figure which represents the company's total investment, and the PSC is required to approve rates which will produce a fair return on that investment.

The C & P application for new rates was filed last April.

Rudolf A. Carrico, whose duty as people's counsel is to represent the public at these hearings, said at that time the rates already being charged by the company had produced profits six million dollars higher than the approved rates had been calculated to produce.

The PSC ruled last month it has no authority to order a refund under such circumstances. Legislation to give it such authority died in the 1960 Legislature. Carrico said he was considering appealing the PSC ruling to the courts or seeking the introduction of new legislation on the issue in 1961.

Rev. William Driscoll, S. J., province director of the Jesuit Seminary Guild, will speak at the annual communion breakfast of Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus.

The affair is scheduled for Sunday following the 8:15 a. m. Mass in SS. Peter and Paul parish hall.

Edward Lyons, chairman, said members of the council will attend the 8:15 a. m. mass in a body. They are asked to meet in the parish's bowling alley at 7:45 a. m.

The breakfast will be served by the Christian Mothers of SS. Peter and Paul, Lyons said.

Peter J. Carpenti, local attorney and a past grand knight of the council, will be toastmaster.

Father Driscoll received his early education at Lawrence, Mass., and earned his AB degree at Georgetown University in 1939. He received his master's degree in 1941 from Bosotn College, and his Ph.D. at Woodstock College in 1945. In 1952 he earned an S. T. L. degree from Woodstock.

Father Driscoll entered the Jesuit Society in 1941 and spent his noviceship at Wernersville, Pa., and studied philosophy and theology at Woodstock College.

During his regency days of teaching he was professor of English and classical literature at Loyola College in Baltimore from 1945 until 1948.

After completing his tertianship at the Shrine of the North American Martyrs, Auriesville, N. Y., Father Driscoll was assigned as director of the Jesuit Mission Bureau and the Jesuit Seminary Guild of the Maryland Province.

Gov. Tawes Thanks Herter For Action In Walsh Case

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes has sent a letter of thanks to Secretary of State Herter for ordering "the strongest possible protest" to Red China against the sentencing of Bishop James Edward Walsh to prison.

Bishop Walsh is a native of Cumberland, Md., and Tawes told Herter he is "deeply revered by all (Maryland) citizens."

"The entire state was shocked at the most recent outrage of the Chinese Communist government in sentencing this saintly man to prison," the governor said. "The deed was a profanation of things we hold sacred and an affront to all that is fine and decent in the human soul.

"I know that I echo the sentiment of all Marylanders when I express to you my profound gratitude for the action you took, as secretary of state, in voicing the strongest possible protest against this inexcusable act . . . "

"The government and people of the United States felt deep revulsion and indignation at this inexcusable act," said State Department Press Officer Lincoln White Tuesday.

Because the United States does not have diplomatic relations with Red China, the protest was delivered in Warsaw by Ambassador Jacob Beam to Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-Nan. The two have been meeting regularly in the Polish capital to discuss various matters, including release of American prisoners in Red China.

Deadline Set For Registration

Persons who wish to register to vote in the primary election May 17 have until April 16 to do so, according to officials of the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors.

The Election Board office in the basement of the Court House will be open every Saturday until noon and on April 16 until 4 p. m. to accommodate eligible voters.

Persons whose names have been stricken from the books for failure to vote during the last five years may also have their names re-registered.

Easter Seal Fund Drive Reaches $2,435 Mark

Contributions to the Easter Seal Sale campaign were reported at $2,435 yesterday by the Allegany County League For Crippled Children.

George A. Schwarzenbach, Seal Sale chairman, reminding that Seals account for nearly one-third of annual income of the League, urged that contributions be mailed promptly to insure receipt before the end of the annual campaign, Easter Sunday.

"Contribute as much as you can," Schwarzenbach urged those who had received some of the 27,000 packets of Seals, "even if you can't use Easter Seals on your mail as a message of hope for crippled children and adults."

The League for Crippled Children deals in many services. Children are referred to the League by local physicians or through the Allegany County Health Department Clinics. Many parents bring a child to the League without referral, and if the child is not already under the care of a doctor, the League makes recommendations for an examination.

Appointments for clinics are sent out a week in advance. This is one of the occasions the League uses volunteer workers, some of whom are members of the Lay Health Council.

Services are based on a program of clinics held at intervals throughout the year. They include:

1. Orthopedic clinic — Dr. George E. Bennett, Dr. George O. Eston and Dr. E. David Weinberg are clinicians who visit alternately for one and two-day clinics every two months.

2. Cerebral palsy clinic — Held for a two-day period twice a year. Dr. Winthrop Phelps, a specialist in the field of brain-injured children, is the attending physician.

3. Plastic surgery clinic — Conducted by Dr. Edward Kitlowski once a year.

4. Brace clinics — Held once a month as necessary. Robert Denison, a brace maker of Baltimore, takes care of all local brace work.

5. Physical therapy — Recommendations are made by the doctors for physical therapy treatments and are carried out on a year-around basis by appointment. Miss Margaret Poole is physical therapist for the League and is employed by the State. Three heavily-scheduled days are set aside to see patients at League headquarters in City Hall Plaza. Two days a week are set aside for visits to various health centers in the community and home visits to severely-handicapped children.

6. Speech therapy—Active case load of speech-handicapped children in excess of 1,000. Included in this group are cerebral palsied children referred by Dr. Phelps; cleft palates referred by Dr. Kitlowski; pre-school children with articulation defects and the like; children in parochial schools with any speech disorder; and on occasion in past years, League therapists have been able to offer assistance to some children in public schools by arrangement with the school therapist.

Nuclear Power For Rockets?

After some preliminary budget manipulations, the United States Atomic Energy Commission has produced $21 million for the next fiscal year to spend on serious development of a nuclear power plant capable of transporting a manned rocket through space.

Initially allotted only $5 million by the Budget Bureau for the 12 months beginning July 1, the AEC has increased the sum by eliminating and curtailing other programs it feels are less important.

Nuclear energy has not yet come into its own, although nearly 15 years have passed since the world became aware of the power of nuclear energy. When efficient atomic reactors are developed, there will be no shortage of applications for them. Initial attention has been focused on electric generating plants, with some prototype stations now in operation.

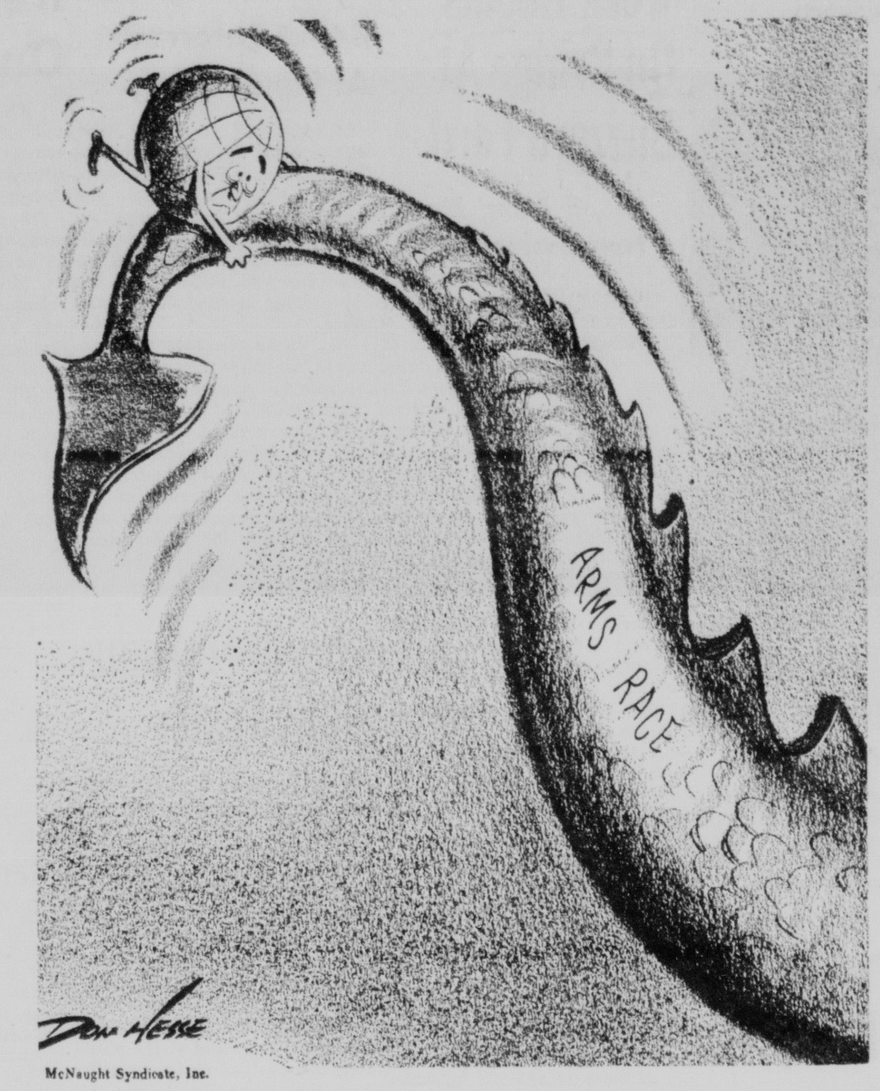

Eventually, scientists predict, tiny nuclear plants will provide heat for the home, power for the automobile (or whatever contrivance man uses for transportation in the future), and perhaps even miniature components to power a myriad of electrical appliances.

Most important, from the standpoint of the man-created necessity to conquer outer space, nuclear-powered rockets would be greatly superior to any liquid or solid fuel-propelled vehicle. Even after the mechanics of entering, traveling in and leaving outer space are perfected, the problem of refueling will remain.

Only a long lived power plant, such as that envisioned by the AEC, will meet the strain of continuous travel over millions of miles.

It is not premature for earthlings to concern themselves over outer space propellants. Current timetables now foresee man's entry into space by 1970. Development and perfection of the force which will take him on his journey may consume all of the intervening time.

Nixon Got Maryland Ex-Rep. Miller Job As Delegate To Geneva Talks

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — A lameduck Congressman turned up in the office of State Department expert Arthur Richards the other day. He was unshaven and a bit bleary-eyed. It looked as if a razor had not touched the ex-Congressman's face for about three days. Yet he was reporting for duty as a full-fledged member of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations "Law of The Sea" conference in Geneva.

The lameduck Congressman was Edward T. Miller, Republican, from the Eastern Shore of Maryland, defeated in 1958, and since then looking for a way to get back to Congress.

Through the intervention of Vice President Nixon, Miller finally got a job as a U. S. delegate to the important Law of The Sea conference — as a buildup for his next campaign.

This conference is dealing, among other things, with the vital question of the three-mile limit which the United States claims should be the extent of offshore water over which any nation can exercise jurisdiction. Russia on the other hand claims 12 miles. The United States is vigorously opposed to this on the ground that a 12-mile limit would close 116 international straits and waterways now open to all nations.

Distinguished Delegates

Heading this delicate negotiation for the United States is Arthur Dean, law partner of the late John Foster Dulles, who also handled our delicate truce negotiations in Korea. Assisting him is Arthur Richards, with 31 years experience in the State Department.

When the U.S. delegation was being made up, Nixon, intervening through the White House, wanted ex-Congressman Miller to get the No. 2 post instead of Richards. But Dean refused. He wanted an expert sitting at his side, not an ex-Congressman with no experience in sea law who has not been missed in the Congress since his defeat.

In Congress, Miller voted against Eisenhower on scientific aid to education, but for the rivers and harbors pork barrel bill and for subsidies for airlines. He also got generous campaign contributions from the duPonts, the Pew family of Sun Oil, Tom Girdler of Republic Steel, Edgar Garbisch of General Foods, Frank Russell of Aircraft Service, and other big business executives, most of them far removed from Maryland.

Finally, thanks to Nixon insistence, Miller was included in the U.S. delegation with the high-sounding title of vice chairman. He spent part of this time before departure for Geneva taking up the time of other delegates inquiring about hotels, reservations, and the amount of money he would be paid daily for expenses.

Higher Interest Rates?

The so-called "Democratic study group" scored an important, unsung victory the other day when its leaders persuaded Speaker Sam Rayburn to sidetrack the Treasury bill removing the ceiling on long-term government bonds. This was considered one of the most important pieces of legislation on the Eisenhower schedule. In addition, Rayburn's good friend and fellow Texan, Secretary of the Treasury Bob Anderson, very much wanted the ceiling removed.

However, the "Democratic study group," the nickname for about 120 maverick Democrats who frequently kick over the traces against Mr. Sam, were opposed. About 10 of them called on Mr. Sam privately to tell him that higher government interest rates would mean higher rates to businessmen all over the USA.

"The interest rate problem is a terribly serious one in my part of the country," said Iowa's Leonard Wolf. "The farmer and the small businessman are still suffering from an economic recession and they cannot afford a further boost in interest rates on all types of borrowing, which is certain to result if this bill becomes law."

Chet Holifield of California also pointed out that a plank in the 1956 Democratic platform put their party on record against increased interest rates.

"We are being asked to approve this legislation carrying out the debt management policies of the Eisenhower administration," argued Holifield, "though it is clearly for the benefit of the banking profession and clearly to the detriment of the general taxpayer."

"Every family buying a home or an automobile will eventually be penalized by higher interest charges if we permit the bill to become law," broke in Wright Patman of Texarkana, Texas.

"President Eisenhower and his Treasury Secretary tell us that the market for government bonds is shaky and therefore the interest ceiling must be raised to attract buyers," continued Patman. "The facts show that the opposite is true. Actually the bond market is in a healthy condition. Recent issues of 91-day Treasury notes at 3.45 per cent, and 182-day notes at 3.61 per cent, were greatly over-subscribed by the investing public."

Speaker Rayburn listened carefully, finally promised to hold up consideration of the government interest rate bill.

Ike's Next Trip

The White House is ordering more frequent rest stops for the President on his trip to Russia and Japan. Ike came back so bushed from his recent Latin-American trip that Dr. Snyder, his personal physician, put his foot down against strenuous schedules in the future. He especially wants to bar official rubbernecking — in other words, the sight-seeing tours which the President made to historic monuments, the tombs of unknown soldiers, etc. Instead he wants Ike to move around only four or five hours a day.

Difference Between Moral And Legal 'Right'

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Governor Leroy Collins of Florida has just emphasized an old conflict in principle between what's lawful and what's "morally right." He says, for instance, that any company that invites the public to trade in its stores can lawfully segregate one section for certain customers, but that such a practice is "morally wrong."

Custom and tradition have long influenced human behavior and, when a majority decides that custom shall be broken, it either brings this about voluntarily or imposes its will by law. The Florida Governor is within his prerogatives in trying to persuade his fellow citizens that they should break with tradition and custom, but he is wise in adding that it is lawful for them to maintain their individual rights.

Many owners of chain stores might agree with Governor Collins that, once they open their doors to the public, they should open all departments on the same basis to everybody. There is no doubt that the owners have the right to do so, but that isn't the real difficulty. The store owners are dealing with the deep-seated convictions of their customers, and are running the risk of antagonizing one set to please another set. It's not the store owners but the public which establishes the social customs that prevail.

Can those customs be broken down by public agitation and by demonstrations that are provocative of counter-demonstrations, or can they better be adjusted to change by calm discussions and bi-racial conferences of citizens? These are the fundamental issues.

Basically, the problem has many potentialities for friction. Is it "morally wrong" to select one's customers, or to fail to invite certain guests for dinner? Many a social function takes place in governmental circles here without Negroes being present. Is it "morally wrong" not to have equal representation of all races and colors at all public functions? And what about access to the homes of public officials whose salaries are paid by the taxpayers or admission to exclusive clubs that enjoy tax exemptions? Plainly all individual rights and customs could be brushed aside if the sole criterion is whether the individual or his home or his place of business happens to be related to a government salary, a tax exemption, or some other governmental privilege.

Then there's another aspect of the conflict between what is sometimes called morally right or wrong and what's being termed legally right or wrong. This conflict was apparent in the momentous decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in 1954 which overturned the "separate but equal" doctrine in public-school facilities for all races. Many lawyers have often spoken of the desegregation ruling of the court as "the right decision for the wrong reasons." What this means is that segregation may be morally wrong but the court gave "psychology" rather than legal reasons for reversing the previous Supreme Court decisions.

Also, was it morally right or even legally right for the Congress in 1867 and 1868 to send military forces into the state legislatures of the South and compel them, at the point of the bayonet, to ratify the 14th Amendment? Yet this is the amendment that has formed the basis for the desegregation decisions of the Supreme Court. The compulsion occurred two years after the war was over and after the Southern states had been accepted into the Union. It was also after the action of these same legislatures in ratifying the 13th Amendment — abolishing slavery —had been accepted as fully legal by Congress.

It has always been the duty of the Secretary of State to issue a proclamation when a constitutional amendment has been duly ratified. Yet Secretary of State Seward, in his proclamation of July 20, 1868, said, in effect, that the 14th Amendment could be regarded as ratified if legislatures of six Southern states could be considered to be legally constituted, and if Ohio and New Jersey, which changed their minds, were bound by their original resolution of approval. This expression of doubt caused Congress to pass a joint resolution the next day declaring the 14th Amendment as adopted and directing the Secretary of State to promulgate it as legal.

No such power exists in Congress under the Constitution to say what constitutional amendments have been legally adopted, or to order the Secretary of State to declare an amendment ratified if he has legal doubts about it. It was, therefore, both "legally wrong" and "morally wrong" for the 14th Amendment to be proclaimed as legally ratified after the Southern legislatures had been coerced.

Oddly enough, the Supreme Court, which is supposed to decide legal controversies, has consistently refused from that day to this to pass upon the constitutionality of the actual process by which the 14th Amendment was allegedly ratified. The court has repeatedly dodged the issue and called it a "political question," preferring instead merely to assume the validity of the amendment itself for all practical purposes. This is an example of something that can be called "morally right, yet legally wrong." It is precisely this doctrine which has prompted many rulers in history to claim that "the end justifies the means."

Cured Cancer Club

When I received a letter from the Cured Cancer Club, Washington, D. C., I thought maybe it had something to do with politics. But then, they would have called it C.C.C. and nobody would have known what it meant. There is the ICC and the FCC and the FTC, so there ought to be a CCC and I looked it up and there is one.

But the Cured Cancer Club is something different. It is an organization founded 10 years ago, in Washington, D. C., of men and women who have had a cancer and have been cured of it and have lived to tell the tale. Most of them will probably live as long as they would have had they not had a cancer. As a matter of fact, they may live longer because now they are likely to avoid many evils. They have undoubtedly been scared into living.

The Cured Cancer Club is fundamentally like Alcoholics Anonymous. Its members seek out others who need help and the greatest help, of course, is the psychological one, of learning to believe that it is possible to outlive this dread disease. Some 15 clubs have been organized in the United States.

I still receive mail from all sorts of people advising me not to listen to physicians or surgeons but to eat rose-buds or drink vegetable syrup or stand on my head or some other kind of nonsense. These amateurs are a peril to those who have a cancer because they lead patients away from proved therapy to hocus-pocus. The frightened patient prefers hocus-pocus. He may live that way for many years.

On the other hand, my cancer was cut out and I have been at work ever since, carrying a schedule that is heavier than I did before I was operated. These naturopaths, or whatever they call themselves, can convince me that surgery is wrong when they can prove to me that I am dead. As a matter of fact, the surgeon who worked on me, with the inspiring name of Dr. George Slaughter, is now working on General Douglas MacArthur, and I shall never forget the day he came into my room in the hospital and said to me:

"Look, I need your nurses for another case. Get the hell out of here, will you?"

This may not have been very polite talk but it sure is good medicine for a cancer patient who tends to feel sorry for himself.

The Cured Cancer Club is one of those "togetherness" efforts and I suppose many persons need human crutches to lean on. Perhaps that is why so many like to sit on the porches of hotels discussing their operations. If they went back to work and forgot the whole thing, I thnik they would be better off. Or maybe not. Maybe, it is helpful to show one's scars. It proves something, perhaps even something heroic.

The truth probably is that in every household where there is an oldster, a statuette might be put in a niche for some doctor or surgeon who has saved a life, preserved the economic stability of a family, saved the sanity of an individual. We forget those technicians who, whether they charge much or little, give one a few years or a few decades of life and despite such creatures as Khrushchev and Castro and such robberies as taxes, it is good to live.

A young Beatnik or a prematurely old pessimist may ask, what for? But the answer is that he has never been dead and he does not realize what a bore that can be. The last time that happened to me, even in the temporary form called a coma, it was so pleasant to come out of it, to see the sun and the snow and to hear human voices. One must be very young indeed not to appreciate being alive in this confused and complex world.

And so I suggest to those who have doubts about themselves that it might be wise to know something about the Cured Cancer Club and that they write not to me but to the Cured Cancer Club, 6601 Sixth Street, N.W., Washington 12, D.C. It could be well worth while to take the fright out of a beloved person—fright is a poison all of its own.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

WARY BACHELORS — Washington's gal reporters got to wondering how some of the Capitol's more famous bachelors succeeded in avoiding the ball and chain, and asked them about it on leap year day.

Youthful, good-looking Senator "Scoop" Jackson of Washington claimed he has been "too busy taking care of public interests to marry," and added that if past is prologue, getting him married "presents a difficult task."

Senator Theodore F. Green, of Rhode Island, who has remained a bachelor up to his present age of 90, was extremely cautious when approached on the subject. His immediate reaction was to inquire "are you proposing to me?"

The he, too, replied as Jackson did: "I've been much too busy saving the country." As to whether he would consider marriage now that he's retiring from the Senate, Green replied, "It's doubtful, but of course you can always try."

Parents Can Prevent Child-Poisoning Cases

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A mother threw an empty can of Drano into the wastepaper basket. Her son, a 1½-year-old ball of fire, found it in the basket and licked the remaining powder that clung to the outside of the can. By the time the mother found out what happened, the tyke's mouth and lips were red and blistered. He was taken to the hospital and the stomach was washed out with milk, vinegar, and water. The lesson: Be careful when disposing of poisonous household products, especially when there are curious toddlers around.

The poison control center of the New York City department of health deserves credit for publishing the stories behind poisonings that are reported to them. Parents or grandparents usually make the errors and young children are the victims.

One mother dissolved a spoonful of boric acid in 4 ounces of water and stored it in the icebox to be used for cleansing the eyes. Grandma came along and added an additional 2 ounces of water and a small mount of syrup, and put the mixture in baby's bottle. The mistake was discovered before the infant took more than an ounce but the mishap was a close call that could have terminated fatally.

Another mother left a small bottle of eyedrops on the washing machine and left the room for a few moments. On her return, her 4-year-old pointed to the empty bottle and announced she had swallowed the "cough medicine."

Shortly thereafter, the child complained of dizziness, stumbled, and became unconscious. The little one was rushed to the hospital and died 4 hours later, despite heroic measures. The bottle was not labeled properly, and thus the ingredients were not known to the physicians. As a result, a specific remedy could not be used.

Never leave any medicine within reach of small fry. They will swallow anything that looks like candy or comes in a milk or coke bottle. Old pills and capsules never should be discarded in a trash basket, especially if there is a possibility that children will find them. This may become a serious problem because the child usually is out of sight when the poisoning occurs and no one know what medicine was consumed.

LARYNGITIS AFTER COLDS

M. P. writes: Every time I catch cold I lose my voice. I'm a quiet person so too much talking is not to blame. What can be done about this condition?

REPLY

Try to avoid the initial cold. If this is not possible, treat the cold as soon as it develops, to prevent the germs from extending down to the voice box. There is no way, to my knowledge, of make the larynx less susceptible to invasion once the infection takes hold.

FATAL SNEEZE

H. T. writes: Could a person die from a violent sneeze?

REPLY

Yes, especially if a steelworker standing on a girder 40 stories up on a Manhattan building should lose his balance on sneezing violently. Others may rupture a blood vessel or an air sac in the lung, provided these structures were weakened previously by disease.

OVARIAN CYST

D. S. writes: Would a cyst on an ovary interfere with conception?

REPLY

It might interfere with but not prevent conception.

RADIUM IN CANCER

O. H. writes: Can cancer of the larynx be cured with radium?

REPLY

Yes—also via surgery.

HALLUCINATIONS

Anon. writes: Do sleeping pills affect the mind the next day? A friend of mine who uses them has hallucinations at times.

REPLY

The hangover from certain types of sedatives usually consists of drowsiness, headache, and depression. Prolonged use of the barbiturates may cause irritability, confusion, and a host of neurological symptoms.

TOMORROW: Escape patterns.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

One of those fast-talking insurance salesmen called up a wealthy prospect and gave his spiel for 10 minutes straight — probably the first time he ever had gotten that far uninterrupted. Suddenly, however, there came from the other end of the phone a series of blood-curdling shrieks and hisses — followed by a butler's apologetic voice. "Begging your pardon, sir," said the butler, "but every time I'm not looking, the chimpanzee answers the phone."

A company of big game hunters had had a hard day in the African jungle, and all but one, nicknamed "Tireless" by his companions, was content to relax in camp with a gin and tonic. Not "Tireless," however. He decided that a good walk before dinner was in order.

Six hours after dinner, everybody was rolling out the sleeping bags when the group noted that "Tireless" hadn't returned.

"Hm-m-m," mused one of the more tender-hearted hunters, "I wonder what's eating him now?"

Letters To The Editor

Sir:

Recently certain men in our country have been accused of being Communists. I am referring to the accusation, growing out of the Air Force manual, that Communists have infiltrated the Christian churches. More specifically, certain Biblical scholars and Christian leaders affiliated with the National Council of Churches have been called Communists. Although this matter has been rather insignificant, as far as total publicity, some opponents of the National Council have blown it up like a balloon.

The National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. is a representative council of major Protestant denominations of our country with a constituency of 38 million members. Many associated with the National Council are among the nation's best Christian leaders. They have the courage to speak boldly their Christian convictions, even though the message they speak may run counter to public opinion, or government policy. They do not see the mission of the Church as pronouncing God's blessing on the status quo. The prophets of old who questioned the status quo aroused plenty of opposition. Should we expect our modern-day prophets to have no opposition?

One of the quickest ways to publicly discredit a person in America seems to be by calling him a bad name. And the worst name a person can be called today is to be called "a Communist." To be called a Communist doesn't make a person one. A man's life is to be judged by his fruits, not the label attached. Yet the public so often accepts the label because thinking is too painful.

But isn't there proof that some of these men are Communists? Have they not openly favored admitting Communist China to the United Nations? To grant the millions of people of Communist China the right to speak and vote in the U. N. is a long way from placing our blessing on Communism. Does not the refusal to recognize this segment of the world's population have certain similarities to the prevention of Negroes in the South from voting by those of Ku-Klux inclinations? The reason: they might not vote as desired by those in control.

Another view of certain opponents of the National Council that disturbs me is that the Church should keep quiet on such matters as government and domestic problems. "It's not the Church's business!", they argue. Does this mean that politics and labor and business relations are so ethically perfect that no Christian influence is needed?

If the Christian Church does not have the right to serve as the conscience of America, and to speak for God as touching all of life, then are we not asserting that the state should be supreme? This is a basic doctrine of Communism, not Democracy.

Nuclear Power For Rockets?

After some preliminary budget manipulations, the United States Atomic Energy Commission has produced $21 million for the next fiscal year to spend on serious development of a nuclear power plant capable of transporting a manned rocket through space.

Initially allotted only $5 million by the Budget Bureau for the 12 months beginning July 1, the AEC has increased the sum by eliminating and curtailing other programs it feels are less important.

Nuclear energy has not yet come into its own, although nearly 15 years have passed since the world became aware of the power of nuclear energy. When efficient atomic reactors are developed, there will be no shortage of applications for them. Initial attention has been focused on electric generating plants, with some prototype stations now in operation.

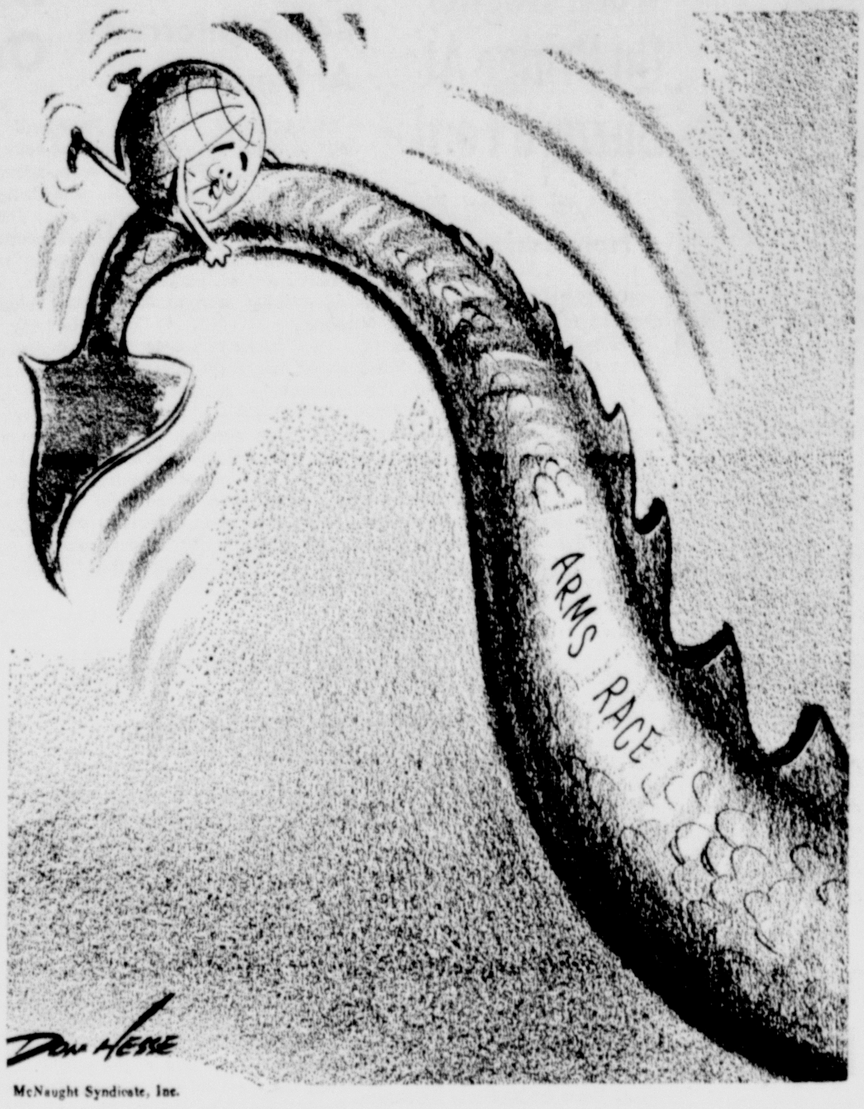

Eventually, scientists predict, tiny nuclear plants will provide heat for the home, power for the automobile (or whatever contrivance man uses for transportation in the future), and perhaps even miniature components to power a myriad of electrical appliances.

Most important, from the standpoint of the man-created necessity to conquer outer space, nuclear-powered rockets would be greatly superior to any liquid or solid fuel-propelled vehicle. Even after the mechanics of entering, traveling in and leaving outer space are perfected, the problem of refueling will remain.

Only a long lived power plant, such as that envisioned by the AEC, will meet the strain of continuous travel over millions of miles.

It is not premature for earthlings to concern themselves over outer space propellants. Current timetables now foresee man's entry into space by 1970. Development and perfection of the force which will take him on his journey may consume all of the intervening time.

Nixon Got Maryland Ex-Rep. Miller Job As Delegate To Geneva Talks

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — A lameduck Congressman turned up in the office of State Department expert Arthur Richards the other day. He was unshaven and a bit bleary-eyed. It looked as if a razor had not touched the ex-Congressman's face for about three days. Yet he was reporting for duty as a full-fledged member of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations "Law of The Sea" conference in Geneva.

The lameduck Congressman was Edward T. Miller, Republican, from the Eastern Shore of Maryland, defeated in 1958, and since then looking for a way to get back to Congress.

Through the intervention of Vice President Nixon, Miller finally got a job as a U. S. delegate to the important Law of The Sea conference — as a buildup for his next campaign.

This conference is dealing, among other things, with the vital question of the three-mile limit which the United States claims should be the extent of offshore water over which any nation can exercise jurisdiction. Russia on the other hand claims 12 miles. The United States is vigorously opposed to this on the ground that a 12-mile limit would close 116 international straits and waterways now open to all nations.

Distinguished Delegates

Heading this delicate negotiation for the United States is Arthur Dean, law partner of the late John Foster Dulles, who also handled our delicate truce negotiations in Korea. Assisting him is Arthur Richards, with 31 years experience in the State Department.

When the U.S. delegation was being made up, Nixon, intervening through the White House, wanted ex-Congressman Miller to get the No. 2 post instead of Richards. But Dean refused. He wanted an expert sitting at his side, not an ex-Congressman with no experience in sea law who has not been missed in the Congress since his defeat.

In Congress, Miller voted against Eisenhower on scientific aid to education, but for the rivers and harbors pork barrel bill and for subsidies for airlines. He also got generous campaign contributions from the duPonts, the Pew family of Sun Oil, Tom Girdler of Republic Steel, Edgar Garbisch of General Foods, Frank Russell of Aircraft Service, and other big business executives, most of them far removed from Maryland.

Finally, thanks to Nixon insistence, Miller was included in the U.S. delegation with the high-sounding title of vice chairman. He spent part of this time before departure for Geneva taking up the time of other delegates inquiring about hotels, reservations, and the amount of money he would be paid daily for expenses.

Higher Interest Rates?

The so-called "Democratic study group" scored an important, unsung victory the other day when its leaders persuaded Speaker Sam Rayburn to sidetrack the Treasury bill removing the ceiling on long-term government bonds. This was considered one of the most important pieces of legislation on the Eisenhower schedule. In addition, Rayburn's good friend and fellow Texan, Secretary of the Treasury Bob Anderson, very much wanted the ceiling removed.

However, the "Democratic study group," the nickname for about 120 maverick Democrats who frequently kick over the traces against Mr. Sam, were opposed. About 10 of them called on Mr. Sam privately to tell him that higher government interest rates would mean higher rates to businessmen all over the USA.

"The interest rate problem is a terribly serious one in my part of the country," said Iowa's Leonard Wolf. "The farmer and the small businessman are still suffering from an economic recession and they cannot afford a further boost in interest rates on all types of borrowing, which is certain to result if this bill becomes law."

Chet Holifield of California also pointed out that a plank in the 1956 Democratic platform put their party on record against increased interest rates.

"We are being asked to approve this legislation carrying out the debt management policies of the Eisenhower administration," argued Holifield, "though it is clearly for the benefit of the banking profession and clearly to the detriment of the general taxpayer."

"Every family buying a home or an automobile will eventually be penalized by higher interest charges if we permit the bill to become law," broke in Wright Patman of Texarkana, Texas.

"President Eisenhower and his Treasury Secretary tell us that the market for government bonds is shaky and therefore the interest ceiling must be raised to attract buyers," continued Patman. "The facts show that the opposite is true. Actually the bond market is in a healthy condition. Recent issues of 91-day Treasury notes at 3.45 per cent, and 182-day notes at 3.61 per cent, were greatly over-subscribed by the investing public."

Speaker Rayburn listened carefully, finally promised to hold up consideration of the government interest rate bill.

Ike's Next Trip

The White House is ordering more frequent rest stops for the President on his trip to Russia and Japan. Ike came back so bushed from his recent Latin-American trip that Dr. Snyder, his personal physician, put his foot down against strenuous schedules in the future. He especially wants to bar official rubbernecking — in other words, the sight-seeing tours which the President made to historic monuments, the tombs of unknown soldiers, etc. Instead he wants Ike to move around only four or five hours a day.

Difference Between Moral And Legal 'Right'

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Governor Leroy Collins of Florida has just emphasized an old conflict in principle between what's lawful and what's "morally right." He says, for instance, that any company that invites the public to trade in its stores can lawfully segregate one section for certain customers, but that such a practice is "morally wrong."

Custom and tradition have long influenced human behavior and, when a majority decides that custom shall be broken, it either brings this about voluntarily or imposes its will by law. The Florida Governor is within his prerogatives in trying to persuade his fellow citizens that they should break with tradition and custom, but he is wise in adding that it is lawful for them to maintain their individual rights.

Many owners of chain stores might agree with Governor Collins that, once they open their doors to the public, they should open all departments on the same basis to everybody. There is no doubt that the owners have the right to do so, but that isn't the real difficulty. The store owners are dealing with the deep-seated convictions of their customers, and are running the risk of antagonizing one set to please another set. It's not the store owners but the public which establishes the social customs that prevail.

Can those customs be broken down by public agitation and by demonstrations that are provocative of counter-demonstrations, or can they better be adjusted to change by calm discussions and bi-racial conferences of citizens? These are the fundamental issues.

Basically, the problem has many potentialities for friction. Is it "morally wrong" to select one's customers, or to fail to invite certain guests for dinner? Many a social function takes place in governmental circles here without Negroes being present. Is it "morally wrong" not to have equal representation of all races and colors at all public functions? And what about access to the homes of public officials whose salaries are paid by the taxpayers or admission to exclusive clubs that enjoy tax exemptions? Plainly all individual rights and customs could be brushed aside if the sole criterion is whether the individual or his home or his place of business happens to be related to a government salary, a tax exemption, or some other governmental privilege.

Then there's another aspect of the conflict between what is sometimes called morally right or wrong and what's being termed legally right or wrong. This conflict was apparent in the momentous decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in 1954 which overturned the "separate but equal" doctrine in public-school facilities for all races. Many lawyers have often spoken of the desegregation ruling of the court as "the right decision for the wrong reasons." What this means is that segregation may be morally wrong but the court gave "psychology" rather than legal reasons for reversing the previous Supreme Court decisions.

Also, was it morally right or even legally right for the Congress in 1867 and 1868 to send military forces into the state legislatures of the South and compel them, at the point of the bayonet, to ratify the 14th Amendment? Yet this is the amendment that has formed the basis for the desegregation decisions of the Supreme Court. One mother dissolved a spoonful of boric acid in 4 ounces of water and stored it in the icebox to be used for cleansing the eyes. Grandma came along and added an additional 2 ounces of water and a small mount of syrup, and put the mixture in baby's bottle. The mistake was discovered before the infant took more than an ounce but the mishap was a close call that could have terminated fatally.

Another mother left a small bottle of eyedrops on the washing machine and left the room for a few moments. On her return, her 4-year-old pointed to the empty bottle and announced she had swallowed the "cough medicine."

Shortly thereafter, the child complained of dizziness, stumbled, and became unconscious. The little one was rushed to the hospital and died 4 hours later, despite heroic measures. The bottle was not labeled properly, and thus the ingredients were not known to the physicians. As a result, a specific remedy could not be used.

Never leave any medicine within reach of small fry. They will swallow anything that looks like candy or comes in a milk or coke bottle. Old pills and capsules never should be discarded in a trash basket, especially if there is a possibility that children will find them. This may become a serious problem because the child usually is out of sight when the poisoning occurs and no one know what medicine was consumed.

LARYNGITIS AFTER COLDS

M. P. writes: Every time I catch cold I lose my voice. I'm a quiet person so too much talking is not to blame. What can be done about this condition?

REPLY

Try to avoid the initial cold. If this is not possible, treat the cold as soon as it develops, to prevent the germs from extending down to the voice box. There is no way, to my knowledge, of make the larynx less susceptible to invasion once the infection takes hold.

FATAL SNEEZE

H. T. writes: Could a person die from a violent sneeze?

REPLY

Yes, especially if a steelworker standing on a girder 40 stories up on a Manhattan building should lose his balance on sneezing violently. Others may rupture a blood vessel or an air sac in the lung, provided these structures were weakened previously by disease.

OVARIAN CYST

D. S. writes: Would a cyst on an ovary interfere with conception?

REPLY

It might interfere with but not prevent conception.

RADIUM IN CANCER

O. H. writes: Can cancer of the larynx be cured with radium?

REPLY

Yes—also via surgery.

HALLUCINATIONS

Anon. writes: Do sleeping pills affect the mind the next day? A friend of mine who uses them has hallucinations at times.

REPLY

The hangover from certain types of sedatives usually consists of drowsiness, headache, and depression. Prolonged use of the barbiturates may cause irritability, confusion, and a host of neurological symptoms.

TOMORROW: Escape patterns.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

One of those fast-talking insurance salesmen called up a wealthy prospect and gave his spiel for 10 minutes straight — probably the first time he ever had gotten that far uninterrupted. Suddenly, however, there came from the other end of the phone a series of blood-curdling shrieks and hisses — followed by a butler's apologetic voice. "Begging your pardon, sir," said the butler, "but every time I'm not looking, the chimpanzee answers the phone."

A company of big game hunters had had a hard day in the African jungle, and all but one, nicknamed "Tireless" by his companions, was content to relax in camp with a gin and tonic. Not "Tireless," however. He decided that a good walk before dinner was in order.

Six hours after dinner, everybody was rolling out the sleeping bags when the group noted that "Tireless" hadn't returned.

"Hm-m-m," mused one of the more tender-hearted hunters, "I wonder what's eating him now?"

Sir:

Recently certain men in our country have been accused of being Communists. I am referring to the accusation, growing out of the Air Force manual, that Communists have infiltrated the Christian churches. More specifically, certain Biblical scholars and Christian leaders affiliated with the National Council of Churches have been called Communists. Although this matter has been rather insignificant, as far as total publicity, some opponents of the National Council have blown it up like a balloon.

The National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. is a representative council of major Protestant denominations of our country with a constituency of 38 million members. Many associated with the National Council are among the nation's best Christian leaders. They have the courage to speak boldly their Christian convictions, even though the message they speak may run counter to public opinion, or government policy. They do not see the mission of the Church as pronouncing God's blessing on the status quo. The prophets of old who questioned the status quo aroused plenty of opposition. Should we expect our modern-day prophets to have no opposition?

One of the quickest ways to publicly discredit a person in America seems to be by calling him a bad name. And the worst name a person can be called today is to be called "a Communist." To be called a Communist doesn't make a person one. A man's life is to be judged by his fruits, not the label attached. Yet the public so often accepts the label because thinking is too painful.

But isn't there proof that some of these men are Communists? Have they not openly favored admitting Communist China to the United Nations? To grant the millions of people of Communist China the right to speak and vote in the U. N. is a long way from placing our blessing on Communism. Does not the refusal to recognize this segment of the world's population have certain similarities to the prevention of Negroes in the South from voting by those of Ku-Klux inclinations? The reason: they might not vote as desired by those in control.

Another view of certain opponents of the National Council that disturbs me is that the Church should keep quiet on such matters as government and domestic problems. "It's not the Church's business!", they argue. Does this mean that politics and labor and business relations are so ethically perfect that no Christian influence is needed?

If the Christian Church does not have the right to serve as the conscience of America, and to speak for God as touching all of life, then are we not asserting that the state should be supreme? This is a basic doctrine of Communism, not Democracy.

MOOREFIELD—Voters in the present town limits of Moorefield and voters and property owners in the area adjoining Moorefield will vote next Tuesday, March 29 on a proposed change in the corporate limits of the town which would add over 600 acres to the town.

The area to be included will benefit by a much lower insurance rate and a lower water rate will be included in future development of municipal services.

Work Begins On Bridge At Buzzard Ford

Spand Being Moved From Jackson Co.

MOOREFIELD—Full scale operations for the replacement of the Buzzard Ford Bridge started last week with a crew of State Road Commission workers reworking the abutment to accommodate the longer span, altering the pier for a new bridge seat and working on the new approach.

Harold J. Snyder, district engineer informed the Moorefield Lions Club bridge committee, Judge H. Gus Muntzing, chairman, that the contract for the new span, awarded to Harman Brothers, contractors, Grafton, carried a $120 per day penalty clause for completion within 45 working days.

The five bids for the removal of the old span, ranged from $51.10 to $1140 and the contract was awarded to the highest bidder who removed the span by February 20.

Harman Brothers match-marked the span of the bridge near Fisher's Chapel in Jackson County, dismantled it and are in the process of moving it to the Buzzard Ford bridge site. The bridge replacing the old span is 12 feet longer, necessitating the work at the east abutment and the altering of the pier in the middle of the river. The span is also deeper at the base and will be seated nearly three feet lower than the old span in order for the floor of the bridge to have the same roadway level. Concrete for the base is being poured this week.

The South Branch river will be diverted through the center span while the work is being completed. The 150-foot steel through truss span being brought from Jackson County was no longer in use as the stream under it had been diverted to another channel when the road was changed.

The steel flooring for the new bridge has already been delivered to the site. The State Road Commission set aside $58,851 for replacement of the cast span.

Work Begins On Bridge At Buzzard Ford

Spand Being Moved From Jackson Co.

MOOREFIELD—Full scale operations for the replacement of the Buzzard Ford Bridge started last week with a crew of State Road Commission workers reworking the abutment to accommodate the longer span, altering the pier for a new bridge seat and working on the new approach.

Harold J. Snyder, district engineer informed the Moorefield Lions Club bridge committee, Judge H. Gus Muntzing, chairman, that the contract for the new span, awarded to Harman Brothers, contractors, Grafton, carried a $120 per day penalty clause for completion within 45 working days.

The five bids for the removal of the old span, ranged from $51.10 to $1140 and the contract was awarded to the highest bidder who removed the span by February 20.

Harman Brothers match-marked the span of the bridge near Fisher's Chapel in Jackson County, dismantled it and are in the process of moving it to the Buzzard Ford bridge site. The bridge replacing the old span is 12 feet longer, necessitating the work at the east abutment and the altering of the pier in the middle of the river. The span is also deeper at the base and will be seated nearly three feet lower than the old span in order for the floor of the bridge to have the same roadway level. Concrete for the base is being poured this week.

The South Branch river will be diverted through the center span while the work is being completed. The 150-foot steel through truss span being brought from Jackson County was no longer in use as the stream under it had been diverted to another channel when the road was changed.

The steel flooring for the new bridge has already been delivered to the site. The State Road Commission set aside $68,861 for replacement of the east span.

Two parking meters were removed from in front of Love's self-service market and signs "Five Minutes Limit Parking" have been erected.

It has become necessary to prohibit any stopping in front of the post office because of the traffic hindrances especially with buses stopping for school children and cars violating the "no parking" regulation.

Interest is running at an all time high, reflected in a record Chamber of Commerce membership enrollment.

Richard W. Hays, general chairman of the membership campaign stated: "The way new memberships and renewals are coming in our membership should double this year." Mrs. Marilyn Alt's team is leading the campaign percentage-wise, with 80% of possible contacts in as members. The James R. Fuller team has 58%, Charles H. Vossler's team 47% and Richard E. Romig's team 41%.

Family Service Activities In Area Grow Under United Fund Sponsorship

Growth of family service activities in Allegany and Mineral Counties is noted in reports of participating agencies of County United Fund.

With the exception of Associated Charities, one of the oldest family service agencies in the country, and the Salvation Army, this type of work was once carried out in a sort of hit-or-miss way in many smaller communities.

Neighbor helped neighbor, with a clothing drive here or a canned food collection there, with a limited number of gift baskets being distributed at Thanksgiving and Christmas, and similar activities carried out without definite programming.

With the advent of County United Fund, a network of family service programs began to mesh, with the object being to meet every human need. The older, larger family service agencies were able to offer advice and assistance, and soon the younger, smaller agencies were achieving progress.

One of the most effective programs reported here this year is that of United Organizations of Tri-Towns, which also contains one of the most progressive and significant examples of the growth of true family service.

Based on the belief that "loneliness is one of the worst human sufferings," the Tri-Towners have developed a program for bringing friendliness into the lives of aged men and women who live alone.

Originated by A. Wayne Ritchie and Alton Fortney, two employes of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company who have long been active in welfare work in the area, it is directed by Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, executive secretary, and carried out by 25-year-old William Z. Paitsel.

To paraphrase the old poem "Somebody's Mother" in reverse, Bill Paitsel is "Everybody's Son." Although a resident of the area for only about two years, having been born and raised in Covington, Va., he has served as a policeman in Piedmont, Westernport and Luke, thus becoming thoroughly acquainted with the Tri-Towns, and with aged citizens who need the kind of helping hand that ordinarily only a son or daughter can give.

Each one of the oldsters of the area receives at least one call a week from him, either before or after his working hours at the Upper Potomac River Commission Waste Treatment Plant, where he is now employed as an operator. His charges include one elderly woman who lives far back in the hills above Westernport.

Bill Paitsel keeps a sharp eye out for the needs of the old folks, brings in coal and wood, chops wood when it is needed. One old man has a neighbor who attends to his fire, but Bill makes sure there are coal and wood near enough to the furnace so they will be convenient for the old gentleman on those occasions when he must attend to it himself.

Old people have little business details to attend to — things that worry them. Forms to fill out, letters to write — things like that. Such things are a burden to the aged. But their new "son," who has adopted them in the interests of the communities, takes the little jobs on with a smile and disposes of them quickly.

Last Christmas, there were two old ladies on the list for Christmas food baskets. But they wouldn't have been able to prepare a real Christmas dinner even with the fixings. So Bill Paitsel ordered their dinner at a Tri-Towns restaurant and delivered them, piping hot, at mealtime on Christmas Day.

He takes the oldsters to the doctors, to the church of their choice, and downtown to do the meager shopping of the aged. He checks their food and medical supplies, sees to their insurance or other means of payment in case of hospitalization.

To accompany Bill Paitsel on his mission of mercy is to see proof enough of the value of his work. The light that comes into the dim eyes, the quick smile that rises on the face of a no-longer-forgotten senior citizen — this is a real reward, both to the young man and the communities he serves.

"It's bad to be lonely," says one old lady. "But I'm not lonely anymore. I know Bill's coming to see me, and I have that to look forward to."

When asked what name is given to the program of visiting the old folks, Bill Paitsel says, very earnestly:

"Why, we don't have a name for it. It's just a friendly call."

That could sum up the work of the five other family service agencies of County United Fund: Keyser United Charities; Frostburg United Family Service; McCoole UO; Associated Charities; and Salvation Army. Whether serving the aged or the young or the troubled, in all cases it simply amounts to "a friendly call."

And there is now a movement under way, among the people of Barton and Lonaconing, who have seen family service at work in Tri-Towns and know its value to the communities, to organize a family service agency of their own.

CUF leaders are assisting in their efforts.

Bill Paitsel keeps a sharp eye out for the needs of the old folks, brings in coal and wood, chops wood when it is needed. One old man has a neighbor who attends to his fire, but Bill makes sure there are coal and wood near enough to the furnace so they will be convenient for the old gentleman on those occasions when he must attend to it himself.

Old people have little business details to attend to — things that worry them. Forms to fill out, letters to write — things like that. Such things are a burden to the aged. But their new "son," who has adopted them in the interests of the communities, takes the little jobs on with a smile and disposes of them quickly.

Last Christmas, there were two old ladies on the list for Christmas food baskets. But they wouldn't have been able to prepare a real Christmas dinner even with the fixings. So Bill Paitsel ordered their dinner at a Tri-Towns restaurant and delivered them, piping hot, at mealtime on Christmas Day.

He takes the oldsters to the doctors, to the church of their choice, and downtown to do the meager shopping of the aged. He checks their food and medical supplies, sees to their insurance or other means of payment in case of hospitalization.

To accompany Bill Paitsel on his mission of mercy is to see proof enough of the value of his work. The light that comes into the dim eyes, the quick smile that rises on the face of a no-longer-forgotten senior citizen — this is a real reward, both to the young man and the communities he serves.

"It's bad to be lonely," says one old lady. "But I'm not lonely anymore. I know Bill's coming to see me, and I have that to look forward to."

When asked what name is given to the program of visiting the old folks, Bill Paitsel says, very earnestly:

"Why, we don't have a name for it. It's just a friendly call."

That could sum up the work of the five other family service agencies of County United Fund: Keyser United Charities; Frostburg United Family Service; McCoole UO; Associated Charities; and Salvation Army. Whether serving the aged or the young or the troubled, in all cases it simply amounts to "a friendly call."

And there is now a movement under way, among the people of Barton and Lonaconing, who have seen family service at work in Tri-Towns and know its value to the communities, to organize a family service agency of their own.

CUF leaders are assisting in their efforts.

VFW Defeats Mason's, 44-42, To Win Cage Tourney

Late Rally Fails For Jug Gals

Vets Win Second Title; All-Tourney Team Is Selected

A late fourth-quarter rally failed Mason's Jug Gals last night and the Veterans of Foreign Wars sextet captured the eighth annual Women's Gold Medal Basketball Tournament title last night at Fort Hill High School. The score was 44-42.

In winning their second Gold Medal crown in eight years the Vets built up a nine-point lead early in the fourth period only to see the Jug Gals rally to pull within two points at 42-40 with two minutes, 46 seconds to play.

The teams traded field goals and the Vets then froze the ball to preserve the hard-fought victory.

The triumph came after the two teams had split the first two games of the final playoffs. Mason's won the opener, 36-25, before dropping the second game, 38-36, in overtime Tuesday night.

Mason's Opens Scoring

Both teams played good defensive ball with the first basket coming after 2:45 of the first quarter had been played. Betsy Robinette sank a layup to put Mason's on top and the Jug Gals maintained the edge, leading 10-9 as the period closed.

In the second quarter the Jug Gals pulled away to a five-point lead with layups by Robinette and Judy McKenty. Then May Smith, with a left-handed hook shot, and Kathy Mullaney, with a "snowbird" pulled the Vets to within two points at halftime, 22-20.

During the third period the score was tied four times before the Vets pulled ahead on a pair of hook shots by Smith. The winners held a 38-31 edge at the close of the stanza.

In the final period, with the Jug Gals trailing by nine points, Robinette and Pat Mason teamed up to pull the losers within two points but the Vets tightened their defenses and held on for the victory.

The VFW sextet won the crown for the first time in 1957. Other winners are McGee's Service Station, 1959; Greene Street Esso, 1958; Ursuline Academy, 1956; Hornets, 1955; Ursuline Academy, 1954; and Ursuline Academy, 1953.

All-Tourney Team

An all-tournament team was selected following last night's championship game. Also picked were the outstanding player and the winner of the sportsmanship award. Trophies will be presented to the winners tonight at 7:30 p.m., preceding an all-star game between the VFW and the All-Tourney team. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Members of the all-tournament team are Hazel Haenfling, Northern; Pat Thompson, McGee's; Sandy Roeder, Keech's; Jean Krampf, McGee's; Pat Meeks, McGee's; and Marjorie Miltenberger, Mason's.

Receiving honorable mention were Jeanne Hale, McGee's, Judy McKenty, Mason's, Peggy Brown, Keech's, and Linda Fuller, Memorial.

Winner of the sportsmanship trophy is Jocelyn Martin of Frank's, while the outstanding player award goes to Betsy Robinette of Mason's. The lineups:

Deal Is Canceled If White Quits, Commissioner Says

BOSTON (UPI)—Sammy White arrived here by plane Wednesday and reiterated that he was "quitting baseball for good."

The former Boston Red Sox catcher said he would get in touch with baseball commissioner Ford Frick regarding the retirement. Frick said Wednesday at Belair, Fla., that the deal in which the Red Sox sent White and first baseman Jim Marshall to the Cleveland Indians for catcher Russ Nixon would be "negated" once White formally notifies him of his intention to retire.

"Yes, I'm still going to retire," said White after arriving. "We have a lot of money tied up in our bowling alley venture (with partner George Page) and things are going along fine. We hope to make it a big success."

Coffin Advances In Senior Golf

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Bruce Coffin of Marblehead, Mass., played the best golf in the second round of the American Seniors Golf Assn. Tournament and sailed into the quarter-finals as favorite.

Coffin was runner-up last year. Wednesday he eliminated Dr. Daniel Jaffar of Detroit 4 and 3.

John W. Roberts of Chicago, who shared medalist honors with Coffin, fell before Forest Andrews of De Kalb, Ill., 3 and 2.

John W. McGuire of Indianapolis, who ousted defending champion Leon Sikes Tuesday, squeaked through a second-round match over Vincent Fitzgerald of New York City.

Campanella Said "Feeling Very Well"

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Dodger catcher Roy Campanella was reported "feeling very well" Wednesday at the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation.

The hospital said he would be up and around in his wheel chair but would remain a few days for a thorough physical examination.

Fernandez Wins Split Decision

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Florentino Fernandez' frequent left hooks and continued aggressiveness combined to beat Ralph Dupas' hit-and-run tactics Wednesday night and gave the hard-hitting Cuban a split decision in a 10-round boxing bout.

Fernandez weighed 147¼, Dupas of New Orleans, 145¾.

Fernandez scored the only knockdown, catching Dupas with a right to the face that sent him down for a count of nine late in the seventh round.

Referee Bill Ragan scored it 98-93 for Fernandez and Judge Stu Winston gave him a 96-94 edge. The other judge, Eddie Thal, called it a 96-96 draw. The Associated Press had Fernandez ahead 97-92.

New Jersey Group Seeks To Buy A's

Plan To Erect Huge Stadium

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two brothers who head a New Jersey real estate firm announced Wednesday they are attempting to purchase the Kansas City A's baseball team and move it to a site about midway between New York and Philadelphia.

An offer "so attractive they will have to consider it seriously" has been made in writing, brothers Kenneth and Leonard Berg of Metuchen, N.J., said.

If the eight-man syndicate headed by the Bergs can purchase the club, it plans to erect a 30-million-dollar 75,000 - seat stadium somewhere in the vicinity of New Brunswick, N.J., and call the team "the New Jersey Athletics."

The Bergs declined to identify other members of the group, except to say that they "are all substantial New Jersey businessmen."

They also declined to state the size of the offer. They said "no sum" was specifically mentioned, but that they offered to pay "more than the fair market value of the team." They said this sum would be larger than the $3,500,000 they have been told the late Arnold Johnson paid for the A's when he moved the club from Philadelphia to Kansas City.

The Bergs said their syndicate was formed "seven or eight weeks ago" and had been investigating "the possibilities of bringing a major sporting team to New Jersey." The death of Johnson earlier this month "focused our attention on the baseball club."

The announcement was made at a press conference here.

In other Senior Unlimited openers the Moorefield All-Stars trounced the Liberty Trust five, 40-17, and Roseland edged Buck's Five, 49-47, in a "sudden death" double overtime. The Liberty Trust entries dropped a second decision last night when they lost to SS. Peter and Paul, 33-24, in the 135-Pound Class engagement.

TODAY'S GAMES

6:00—Stratton's Cafe vs. Midland Maulers (135 pound class)

7:00—Piedmont Stars vs. Lovers Leap Esso (135 pound class)

8:00—Cumberland Moose vs. Hafer House (Sr. Unlimited class)

In the most thrilling battle of the quartet of games last night, Roseland's Dick Rank drove in for the wining field goal in the "sudden death" second overtime period to defeat Buck's Five.

Buck's trailed 9-5 at the first quarter but pulled ahead 18-17 at halftime. Roseland pulled ahead 33-24 at the end of the third stanza only to see Buck's rally to knot the score 37-all and send the game into extra periods.

Both teams scored 10 points in a fast-and-furious first extra period which saw the score still knotted at 47-47. Rank's field goal closed the door on Buck's Five in the second overtime period.

Bill Scott tallied 14 points for Roseland, followed closely by Rank's 13 markers. Jim O'Neal was the game's top scorer with 20 points for Buck's.

Moorefield, led by Grant High's 19 points, had an easy time with Liberty Trust in the final Senior Unlimited engagement. The victors blanked the losers, 13-0 in the first quarter and led 20-4 at halftime. The third quarter score was 32-7, as Liberty Trust garnered only four field goals. Bruce Price had nine points for the losers.

In the 135-pound division, SS. Peter and Paul trailed throughout the first half but rallied in the third quarter to take the lead and went on to defeat the second Liberty Trust entry last night. Bill Humbertson was the big gun for SS. Peter and Paul with 12 points. Teammate Bill Stakem chipped in with 10. Gary Barmoy had 12 points for Liberty Trust.

Last night's quartet of games saw the field of entries in the four divisions reduced to 33.

VFW Defeats Mason's, 44-42, To Win Cage Tourney

Vets Win Second Title; All-Tourney Team Is Selected

A late fourth-quarter rally failed Mason's Jug Gals last night and the Veterans of Foreign Wars sextet captured the eighth annual Women's Gold Medal Basketball Tournament title last night at Fort Hill High School. The score was 44-42.

In winning their second Gold Medal crown in eight years the Vets built up a nine-point lead early in the fourth period only to see the Jug Gals rally to pull within two points at 42-40 with two minutes, 46 seconds to play.

The teams traded field goals and the Vets then froze the ball to preserve the hard-fought victory.

The triumph came after the two teams had split the first two games of the final playoffs. Mason's won the opener, 36-25, before dropping the second game, 38-36, in overtime Tuesday night.

Mason's Opens Scoring

Both teams played good defensive ball with the first basket coming after 2:45 of the first quarter had been played. Betsy Robinette sank a layup to put Mason's on top and the Jug Gals maintained the edge, leading 10-9 as the period closed.

In the second quarter the Jug Gals pulled away to a five-point lead with layups by Robinette and Judy McKenty. Then May Smith, with a left-handed hook shot, and Kathy Mullaney, with a "snowbird" pulled the Vets to within two points at halftime, 22-20.

During the third period the score was tied four times before the Vets pulled ahead on a pair of hook shots by Smith. The winners held a 38-31 edge at the close of the stanza.

In the final period, with the Jug Gals trailing by nine points, Robinette and Pat Mason teamed up to pull the losers within two points but the Vets tightened their defenses and held on for the victory.

The VFW sextet won the crown for the first time in 1957. Other winners are McGee's Service Station, 1959; Greene Street Esso, 1958; Ursuline Academy, 1956; Hornets, 1955; Ursuline Academy, 1954; and Ursuline Academy, 1953.

All-Tourney Team

An all-tournament team was selected following last night's championship game. Also picked were the outstanding player and the winner of the sportsmanship award. Trophies will be presented to the winners tonight at 7:30 p.m., preceding an all-star game between the VFW and the All-Tourney team. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Members of the all-tournament team are Hazel Haenfling, Northern; Pat Thompson, McGee's; Sandy Roeder, Keech's; Jean Krampf, McGee's; Pat Meeks, McGee's; and Marjorie Miltenberger, Mason's.

Receiving honorable mention were Jeanne Hale, McGee's, Judy McKenty, Mason's, Peggy Brown, Keech's, and Linda Fuller, Memorial.

Winner of the sportsmanship trophy is Jocelyn Martin of Frank's, while the outstanding player award goes to Betsy Robinette of Mason's. The lineups:

Deal Is Canceled If White Quits, Commissioner Says

BOSTON (UPI)—Sammy White arrived here by plane Wednesday and reiterated that he was "quitting baseball for good."

The former Boston Red Sox catcher said he would get in touch with baseball commissioner Ford Frick regarding the retirement. Frick said Wednesday at Belair, Fla., that the deal in which the Red Sox sent White and first baseman Jim Marshall to the Cleveland Indians for catcher Russ Nixon would be "negated" once White formally notifies him of his intention to retire.

"Yes, I'm still going to retire," said White after arriving. "We have a lot of money tied up in our bowling alley venture (with partner George Page) and things are going along fine. We hope to make it a big success."

Fernandez Wins Split Decision

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Florentino Fernandez' frequent left hooks and continued aggressiveness combined to beat Ralph Dupas' hit-and-run tactics Wednesday night and gave the hard-hitting Cuban a split decision in a 10-round boxing bout.

Fernandez weighed 147¼, Dupas of New Orleans, 145¾.

Fernandez scored the only knockdown, catching Dupas with a right to the face that sent him down for a count of nine late in the seventh round.

Referee Bill Ragan scored it 98-93 for Fernandez and Judge Stu Winston gave him a 96-94 edge. The other judge, Eddie Thal, called it a 96-96 draw. The Associated Press had Fernandez ahead 97-92.

LOW-RATED BOSOX COULD BE ONE OF SEASON'S SURPRISES

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major league teams.

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. — Three strikes were tossed against Bill Jurges as the ex-National league shortstop took over for his first full season as manager of the Boston Red Sox. However, Bill, who always had a keen batting eye, didn't go down. He's still on his feet and came out smiling.

First, Jackie Jensen, the muscle man in center field, decided to call it quits.

Then Ted Williams, the old fishing expert, arrived to announce that he had too much pain and didn't know if he would play.

Then two of Bill's charges, outfielder Jackie Keough and ex-Cub pitcher Dave Hillman, were banged up in a late-hour auto accident near Mesa Ariz., and Hillman's shoulder is in bad shape.

Jurges, however, still optimistic, goes ahead with the task of trying to make the goldplated Red Sox a solid competitor.

Club Of Youngsters

"This is a club of young players," the gray-haired Jurges says in between his duities of two practice sessions at Scottsdale Stadium here.

"It's a guessing game at the moment," Bill continues. "We have what we think is good young talent but we don't know if they're going to be ready this year, or next. The guesses we make may backfire in that we might keep the wrong ones.

"I think our pitching is going to be all right. Jerry Casale should be better and we've got several others who look real good right now. We're going to give Ron Jackson a shot at first but we also have Vic Wertz available and Wertz is in excellent condition."

The outfield problem created by Jensen's retirement and Williams' still questionable status may be of special concern although Jurges doesn't indicate it as he says: "Gene Stephens will be in center and we have Bobby Thomson and Williams in left. Gary Geiger probably will be in right field when he gets out of the service (April)."

Experiments At First

One of the big experiments will be at first, where Ron Jackson, the giant ex-White Soxer, is being given the big shot at it. If he doesn't make it, Jurges could always use Pete Runnels, but Pete is needed around the keystone sack.

Jerry (Pumpsie) Green is a better-fielding second sacker than Runnels but Runnels hits better. A possible help here or at third is a rookie, Marlan Coughtry, who did well at Allentown last year.

Don Buddin and the All-Star third sacker, Frank Malzone, complete the infield.

Unless the recent trade that saw Sammy White traded to Cleveland for Catcher Russ Nixon is nullified Boston catching will be in the hands of Nixon. Other receivers are Ed Sadowski, from Minneapolis, and Haywood Sullivan, once rated very highly. White announced his retirement from baseball after being traded by Boston but may change his mind and go to Cleveland.

The Red Sox got Bobby Thomson from the Cubs and he will alternate with Williams in left. Two rookies are being "guessed on" among the outfielders. They are Luciean Clinton, from Minneapolis, and Gerald Mallett, who hit .278 at Allentown.

Casale Heads Hurlers

The Red Sox pitching is headed by Jerry Casale, who won 13 games last year; Tom Brewer, Frank Sullivan and Tom Sturdivant, with Ike Delock and Mike Fornieles available. Sturdivant has looked great in camp, arrived early and is ready to go. He spent last year with the Yanks and A's.

Dave Hillman, who was 8-11 with the Cubs, now is a question mark after his auto accident injury. Young pitchers in camp include Tom Borland, 14-8 with Minneapolis (who is expected to do relief duty), and Bob Wilson, big righthander who won 10 for Minneapolis. Also on deck is Bill Monbouquette, who was 7-7 with Boston last year.

CAPSULE COMMENT

On Boston Red Sox

Finish last year — Fifth.

Pitching — Could be good; Dave Hillman questionable now.

Infield — If Ron Jackson can hit infield will be helped by power.

Outfield — Jackie Jensen gone, Ted Williams in doubt. Who will drive in the runs?

Overall — Not rated first division, but may surprise.

NEXT — Cleveland Indians

$21,859 Left Unclaimed By W.Va. Bettors

Money Deposited By Race Tracks

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)— Some West Virginia race track fans apparently don't care if they win or lose.

The State Racing Commission reported Wednesday that so far this year, three of the state's four race tracks have deposited into the general revenue fund $21,859 in unredeemed pari-mutuel tickets.

Waterford Park and Charles Town had a total of $19,636 in unredeemed tickets at the end of their 1959 summer meetings. Shenandoah Downs had $13,476 at the end of its 1959 spring card. All three tracks held the money for the statutory 180 days after the end of their meetings before turning the balance over to the state.

In addition, Charles Town had $10,278 in unredeemed tickets Feb. 22, at the end of its winter meeting. The balance of that sum will be deposited with the state in August.

Wheeling Downs, which had $7,365 in unclaimed tickets at the end of its 1959 spring and summer meetings, will deposit its balance next month.

Shipley Is Terps' Coach 37th Year

COLLEGE PARK, March 22 — Maryland's Dean of Coaches Burton Shipley opens the 1960 baseball season on March 29 with Dartmouth. The opening game will be played at Maryland's Shipley field and will be the 37th year as Head Coach for Shipley.

The Maryland team finished fourth in the Atlantic Coast Conference last year although only one game out of first place. There was a three way tie for the conference title last year.

Two of Maryland's All ACC squad members are back to lead the Terps this year. The Terps lost the All ACC center fielder Pat Clarke and also all conference pitcher Dick Reitz. Clarke was a 323 hitter while Reitz won 8 of the 11 victories for the Terps last year in addition to his perfect game against Johns Hopkins.

WIN RECORD IS TOPS

WILMINGTON, De. (UPI) — The Middle Atlantic Conference, made up of colleges mostly from Pennsylvania, has the best won-lost record of any league in NCAA basketball tournament competition. MAC teams have won 17 games and lost eight. LaSalle is 9-1 and Temple 8-3.

LOW-RATED BOSOX COULD BE ONE OF SEASON'S SURPRISES

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major league teams.

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. — Three strikes were tossed against Bill Jurges as the ex-National league shortstop took over for his first full season as manager of the Boston Red Sox. However, Bill, who always had a keen batting eye, didn't go down. He's still on his feet and came out smiling.

First, Jackie Jensen, the muscle man in center field, decided to call it quits.

Then Ted Williams, the old fishing expert, arrived to announce that he had too much pain and didn't know if he would play.

Then two of Bill's charges, outfielder Jackie Keough and ex-Cub pitcher Dave Hillman, were banged up in a late-hour auto accident near Mesa Ariz., and Hillman's shoulder is in bad shape.

Jurges, however, still optimistic, goes ahead with the task of trying to make the goldplated Red Sox a solid competitor.

Club Of Youngsters

"This is a club of young players," the gray-haired Jurges says in between his duities of two practice sessions at Scottsdale Stadium here.

"It's a guessing game at the moment," Bill continues. "We have what we think is good young talent but we don't know if they're going to be ready this year, or next. The guesses we make may backfire in that we might keep the wrong ones.

"I think our pitching is going to be all right. Jerry Casale should be better and we've got several others who look real good right now. We're going to give Ron Jackson a shot at first but we also have Vic Wertz available and Wertz is in excellent condition."

The outfield problem created by Jensen's retirement and Williams' still questionable status may be of special concern although Jurges doesn't indicate it as he says: "Gene Stephens will be in center and we have Bobby Thomson and Williams in left. Gary Geiger probably will be in right field when he gets out of the service (April)."

Experiments At First

One of the big experiments will be at first, where Ron Jackson, the giant ex-White Soxer, is being given the big shot at it. If he doesn't make it, Jurges could always use Pete Runnels, but Pete is needed around the keystone sack.

Jerry (Pumpsie) Green is a better-fielding second sacker than Runnels but Runnels hits better. A possible help here or at third is a rookie, Marlan Coughtry, who did well at Allentown last year.

Another bright prospect for the future is the $100,000 kid, Carl Yastrzemski, Jr., signed right out of the freshman class at Notre Dame and labeled by all today a "major league hitter already" but a question mark as to whether he can field like a major leaguer.

Don Buddin and the All-Star third sacker, Frank Malzone, complete the infield.

Unless the recent trade that saw Sammy White traded to Cleveland for Catcher Russ Nixon is nullified Boston catching will be in the hands of Nixon. Other receivers are Ed Sadowski, from Minneapolis, and Haywood Sullivan, once rated very highly. White announced his retirement from baseball after being traded by Boston but may change his mind and go to Cleveland.

The Red Sox got Bobby Thomson from the Cubs and he will alternate with Williams in left. Two rookies are being "guessed on" among the outfielders. They are Luciean Clinton, from Minneapolis, and Gerald Mallett, who hit .278 at Allentown.

Casale Heads Hurlers

The Red Sox pitching is headed by Jerry Casale, who won 13 games last year; Tom Brewer, Frank Sullivan and Tom Sturdivant, with Ike Delock and Mike Fornieles available. Sturdivant has looked great in camp, arrived early and is ready to go. He spent last year with the Yanks and A's.

Dave Hillman, who was 8-11 with the Cubs, now is a question mark after his auto accident injury. Young pitchers in camp include Tom Borland, 14-8 with Minneapolis (who is expected to do relief duty), and Bob Wilson, big righthander who won 10 for Minneapolis. Also on deck is Bill Monbouquette, who was 7-7 with Boston last year.

CAPSULE COMMENT

On Boston Red Sox

Finish last year — Fifth.

Pitching — Could be good; Dave Hillman questionable now.

Infield — If Ron Jackson can hit infield will be helped by power.

Outfield — Jackie Jensen gone, Ted Williams in doubt. Who will drive in the runs?

Overall — Not rated first division, but may surprise.

NEXT — Cleveland Indians

4♥	Dbl.	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of ♠

Declarer elicited the aid of his opponent to execute a successful trump reducing maneuver in today's double contract.

The bidding was reasonably sound. North elected to pass on the first round inasmuch as he felt he had sufficient strength to compete later. West came in with two no trump over South's free bid of two hearts, and North now offered a raise to three hearts. East was glad to be relieved of any further obligations and when South proceeded to game, West felt a personal affront and doubled.

West opened the king of spades and declarer's outlook was bleak, for in view of West's bid of two no trump and subsequent double of the final contract, it was more than likely that he held both heart honors which, in addition to the two aces, would spell a one trick set. However, a bleak outlook need not be a hopeless one, and declarer set himself up to take advantage of a fortunate distribution if it happened to exist. If West had only a four card spade suit there was a good chance that his hand was evenly balanced. If he could follow to three rounds in the minor suits there was a way to bring home the contract.

Declarer won the opening lead with the ace in dummy and ruffed a spade in his own hand. He led the king of clubs which West won and then cashed the ace of diamonds and continued with a diamond. Declarer ruffed in dummy and ruffed another spade in the closed hand. He then led the king of diamonds and ruffed in dummy. A spade was ruffed by declarer and dummy was reentered with the queen of clubs and a club was ruffed by declarer, bringing him down to three trumps at this point. West was down also to three trumps. The play of the heart eight put West into the lead and the forced trump return gave declarer the last two tricks with the ace and ten.

Note that failure by West to take the king of clubs would have stymied declarer.

HOLLYWOOD—Couldn't detect any bitterness in director Jean Negulesco's voice when I talked with him about his parting company with Ray Stark on "The World of Auzie Wong" in London. He said, "It was only a matter of our not seeing eye to eye, but this is a good property and I believe Ray will get a good picture out of it."

Jean was more eager to talk about the two children he and Dusty adopted in Europe. "Dusty will be here next week with the children," he said. "They had to get some shots, and I had to come back to start work on my next picture, "Apple Pie Bed.' I'm preparing it for United Artists. The only actor I have signed is Maurice Chevalier. After I finish that I'm going to film the life story of Alexander Pushkin, the Russian poet."

P.S.: Jean carries photographs of the children in his pocket.

Contracts ARE being signed even in these strike-times, and Jack Karp of Paramount says he has made an important deal with Howard Hawks to produce and direct "Tanganyika," a tall adventure tale.

Although there are seven star roles—none of them yet cast—arrangements have already been made for locationing in East Africa. This section of Africa is begging to get a play from the movie companies— "Tarzen" has just been completed there, also for Paramount.

"Tanganyika" is the story of two men who head an expedition to capture wild animals alive for a famed zoo.

Very much on the Q.T. Jack Warner planed to New York for a meeting of the minds of the top studio brass about the strike situation. In fact, it had been the hope of the group including Spyrous Skouras, Joe Vogel, Barney Balaban, Abe Schneider and other executives of the strike-struck "majors" that there would be no publicity about these huddles which started Tuesday night and were continued Wednesday morning.

The strike conferences on the West Coast broke down Friday when the SAG turned down the producers offer to contribute to the "actors fund" from the sale of post-48 movies to TV. The actors came back with a counter-offer which the producers nixed. But at least the two warring factions are talking facts and figures —a hopeful sign.

Social queen Perle Mesta, who has been to weddings all over the world, went with us to the Susan Pauley-Richard D'Orr Hillyer wedding and reception at the Edwin Pauley home. Perle said she had never seen such an elaborate wedding, and that Princess Margaret will have to work hard to equal it.

Susan was such a lovely bride. I met the bridegroom when Jimmy McHugh and I were guests at a Cocoanut Isle, the Pauley's home in Hawaii, and Susan laughingly said, "I made up my mind right then and there to get Richard." I don't think he was very hard to get, the way he beamed at his beautiful bride.

It was Bobbe, the bride's beautiful mother who masterminded the whole decor. Think of seating 800 guests in a private home!

Bing Crosby is in Palm Beach visiting all the golf courses and having the kind of vacation he enjoys best. Kathryn and little "Tex," or Harry as he is now called, joined him there. Kathy lefty Mary Frances home with Mother Crosby because she felt it was too hard a trip for a six months old baby.

The Crosby's have rented a house at Palm Beach and will match Florida's weather with our own wonderful sunny California. When Bing left he said his forwarding address was the Seminole Golf Club. With all their houses, interesting that he rented one in Palm Beach instead of going to a hotel, but that boy loves his privacy, and can you blame him?

Former Citizen Changes Mind

CLEVELAND (UPI) — A Cleveland man who abandoned his American citizenship to live in Russia, now wants to come back home.

However, a State Department spokesman said it won't be easy for Robert E. Webster to come back. He'll have to apply as an alien.

Webster, 31, was a plastics technician with Cleveland's Rand Development Co., and worked at the Rand exhibit at the U.S. Fair in Moscow last summer. He chose to stay in Russia when the fair closed and was granted Russian citizenship.

But in a letter received last week by his father, Charles E. Webster of Zelienople, Pa., Webster said he wanted to come home and was going to contact the U. S. Embassy in Moscow.

When Webster decided to stay in Russia he told his former employer, James H. Rand III, that he was doing so for "ideological reasons."

However, associates of Webster at the fair say he became enamored of a Russian woman. In a letter to his mother, Webster said he planned to marry the woman.

Drive Started On Unattended Cars With Keys

Lt. W. E. O'Hara, commander of the LaVale Barracks of the State Police, said members of the detachment have started a campaign against car owners who leave their cars unlocked and the ignition keys in place while the vehicles are unattended.

Lt. O'Hara said it is a violation of the law to leave car keys in machines while they are unattended and yesterday warrants were sworn out against two motorists who reported their cars stolen and admitted they left the ignition keys inside.

The State Police officer said 80 per cent of all cars stolen are ones in which the owners failed to take their keys with them. The law is similar to one which makes it a violation to leave a car motor running while the vehicle is unattended.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a girl who lacks 11 months of being 13 years old. Several of my girl friends have already been told the facts of life by their mothers. My mother hasn't said one word to me yet.

I'm sure my mother knows everything there is to know on this subject but she won't tell me ANYTHING. I think it is because she has the crazy idea I will blab it around to my younger brothers.

How can I get my mother to talk to me about life and things like that? I am very interested in the subject of what every young girl should know and I don't know ANYTHING. — IN THE DARK

DEAR IN THE DARK: The best way to show your mother you are a young lady is to behave like one. Don't nag her for information. Ask her to buy you some books. There are many good ones around — just right for a girl your age.

Your teacher, family doctor, or the librarian can help your mother make the best selection. And P.S.: DON'T you dare blab to your younger brothers or I'm through with you for life!

DEAR ANN: This problem concerns my girl friend. She and I have always been very close. I'm terribly worried about her.

Eight months ago Bonnie became engaged to a boy whose religion is different from hers. He persuaded her to change over to his beliefs. After she began her studies I noticed red blotches on her arms and neck, as big around as teacups.

She said it was just the excitement of being engaged. The doctor called it "nerves." Two weeks ago Bonnie lost her voice and couldn't make a sound for three days. She didn't have a cold and the whole thing was very mysterious. Yesterday she lost her voice again and the hives popped out bigger than ever.

I don't want to stick my nose into her affairs but do you think changing religions is behind all this? — ALSO NERVOUS

DEAR NERVOUS: I don't want to stick my nose into her affairs either, since she didn't write to me. However, between us (and 35 million readers) I suspect your hunch is correct.

Guilt can produce skin trouble as well as a loss of voice. I hope Bonnie will talk frankly to her feelings. When she clears her conscience she may also clear her skin.

DEAR ANN: My boy friend and I are having an argument. He was in a car accident and had to be in the hospital for six weeks. Now he's at home.

He lives a long way from my house and I can take a bus over there, but getting home is a problem. I have to hire a taxi because the buses don't run after 11:30 p.m. I can't afford a taxi every night and have suggested that he pay for it. He says it's not his problem. What do you think? —TAXI BROKE

P. S. Don't suggest I leave earlier and get the bus. I don't want to.

DEAR BROKE: You're going over there too often and staying too long. Anything worth saying can be said before the last bus leaves.

Are you tempted to smoke because the crow does? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teen-age Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Although there are seven star roles—none of them yet cast—arrangements have already been made for locationing in East Africa. This section of Africa is begging to get a play from the movie companies— "Tarzen" has just been completed there, also for Paramount.

"Tanganyika" is the story of two men who head an expedition to capture wild animals alive for a famed zoo.

Very much on the Q.T. Jack Warner planed to New York for a meeting of the minds of the top studio brass about the strike situation. In fact, it had been the hope of the group including Spyrous Skouras, Joe Vogel, Barney Balaban, Abe Schneider and other executives of the strike-struck "majors" that there would be no publicity about these huddles which started Tuesday night and were continued Wednesday morning.

The strike conferences on the West Coast broke down Friday when the SAG turned down the producers offer to contribute to the "actors fund" from the sale of post-48 movies to TV. The actors came back with a counter-offer which the producers nixed. But at least the two warring factions are talking facts and figures —a hopeful sign.

Social queen Perle Mesta, who has been to weddings all over the world, went with us to the Susan Pauley-Richard D'Orr Hillyer wedding and reception at the Edwin Pauley home. Perle said she had never seen such an elaborate wedding, and that Princess Margaret will have to work hard to equal it.

Susan was such a lovely bride. I met the bridegroom when Jimmy McHugh and I were guests at a Cocoanut Isle, the Pauley's home in Hawaii, and Susan laughingly said, "I made up my mind right then and there to get Richard." I don't think he was very hard to get, the way he beamed at his beautiful bride.

It was Bobbe, the bride's beautiful mother who masterminded the whole decor. Think of seating 800 guests in a private home!

Bing Crosby is in Palm Beach visiting all the golf courses and having the kind of vacation he enjoys best. Kathryn and little "Tex," or Harry as he is now called, joined him there. Kathy lefty Mary Frances home with Mother Crosby because she felt it was too hard a trip for a six months old baby.

The Crosby's have rented a house at Palm Beach and will match Florida's weather with our own wonderful sunny California. When Bing left he said his forwarding address was the Seminole Golf Club. With all their houses, interesting that he rented one in Palm Beach instead of going to a hotel, but that boy loves his privacy, and can you blame him?

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a girl who lacks 11 months of being 13 years old. Several of my girl friends have already been told the facts of life by their mothers. My mother hasn't said one word to me yet.

I'm sure my mother knows everything there is to know on this subject but she won't tell me ANYTHING. I think it is because she has the crazy idea I will blab it around to my younger brothers.

How can I get my mother to talk to me about life and things like that? I am very interested in the subject of what every young girl should know and I don't know ANYTHING. — IN THE DARK

DEAR IN THE DARK: The best way to show your mother you are a young lady is to behave like one. Don't nag her for information. Ask her to buy you some books. There are many good ones around — just right for a girl your age.

Your teacher, family doctor, or the librarian can help your mother make the best selection. And P.S.: DON'T you dare blab to your younger brothers or I'm through with you for life!

DEAR ANN: This problem concerns my girl friend. She and I have always been very close. I'm terribly worried about her.

Eight months ago Bonnie became engaged to a boy whose religion is different from hers. He persuaded her to change over to his beliefs. After she began her studies I noticed red blotches on her arms and neck, as big around as teacups.

She said it was just the excitement of being engaged. The doctor called it "nerves." Two weeks ago Bonnie lost her voice and couldn't make a sound for three days. She didn't have a cold and the whole thing was very mysterious. Yesterday she lost her voice again and the hives popped out bigger than ever.

I don't want to stick my nose into her affairs but do you think changing religions is behind all this? — ALSO NERVOUS

DEAR NERVOUS: I don't want to stick my nose into her affairs either, since she didn't write to me. However, between us (and 35 million readers) I suspect your hunch is correct.

Guilt can produce skin trouble as well as a loss of voice. I hope Bonnie will talk frankly to her feelings. When she clears her conscience she may also clear her skin.

DEAR ANN: My boy friend and I are having an argument. He was in a car accident and had to be in the hospital for six weeks. Now he's at home.

He lives a long way from my house and I can take a bus over there, but getting home is a problem. I have to hire a taxi because the buses don't run after 11:30 p.m. I can't afford a taxi every night and have suggested that he pay for it. He says it's not his problem. What do you think? —TAXI BROKE

P. S. Don't suggest I leave earlier and get the bus. I don't want to.

DEAR BROKE: You're going over there too often and staying too long. Anything worth saying can be said before the last bus leaves.

Are you tempted to smoke because the crow does? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teen-age Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Former Citizen Changes Mind

CLEVELAND (UPI) — A Cleveland man who abandoned his American citizenship to live in Russia, now wants to come back home.

However, a State Department spokesman said it won't be easy for Robert E. Webster to come back. He'll have to apply as an alien.

Webster, 31, was a plastics technician with Cleveland's Rand Development Co., and worked at the Rand exhibit at the U.S. Fair in Moscow last summer. He chose to stay in Russia when the fair closed and was granted Russian citizenship.

But in a letter received last week by his father, Charles E. Webster of Zelienople, Pa., Webster said he wanted to come home and was going to contact the U. S. Embassy in Moscow.

When Webster decided to stay in Russia he told his former employer, James H. Rand III, that he was doing so for "ideological reasons."

However, associates of Webster at the fair say he became enamored of a Russian woman. In a letter to his mother, Webster said he planned to marry the woman.

Drive Started On Unattended Cars With Keys

Lt. W. E. O'Hara, commander of the LaVale Barracks of the State Police, said members of the detachment have started a campaign against car owners who leave their cars unlocked and the ignition keys in place while the vehicles are unattended.

Lt. O'Hara said it is a violation of the law to leave car keys in machines while they are unattended and yesterday warrants were sworn out against two motorists who reported their cars stolen and admitted they left the ignition keys inside.

The State Police officer said 80 per cent of all cars stolen are ones in which the owners failed to take their keys with them. The law is similar to one which makes it a violation to leave a car motor running while the vehicle is unattended.

Market Rallies Briskly On Increased Trading

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market rallied sharply on strong support Wednesday restoring nearly $2,500,000,000 to stock valuations.

The advance was the eighth for the market in the last nine sessions, but was marked by the heavist trading since March 10.

Investor sentiment apparently got a lift from the brightening news background. Indications are that money will become easier and that gross national output will hit a 500 billion dollar annual rate for the first quarter.

Motors, which have ruled narrowly irregular in recent sessions, firmed on balance following a prediction by the head of Studebaker-Packard that the auto industry should experience a good year on the pent up demand for compact cars. American Motors tacked on a large fraction, Studebaker - Packard around a half, and General Motors and Ford ¼-point each.

Electronics, Tuesday's leaders, were in the driver's seat again. International Business Machines added 5 points to 436, Texas Instruments jumped 3 and Litton more than 2.

Rails firmed in their average largely on gains of nearly 2 in Chesapeake & Ohio and nearly a point in Norfolk & Western.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) —Deferred wheat futures lagged, but other grains were mostly higher Wednesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell,wheat was off ⅜ to up 1⅛; corn unchanged to up ⅜; oats up ⅛ to ½; rye up ¾ to ⅝ and soybeans up ⅛ to ⅜.

In wheat, the May contract moved to a new high for the season under active commercial and commission house buying. Some of the buying was associated with export sales of red wheat.

New crop wheat futures were easy, largely because of spreading transactions.

Corn futures held an early small advance as local buying continued to absorb offers by commercial and commission houses. Some buying was based on a belief that farm consumption of corn will be heavy due to the long winter. Cash receipts were light.

Oats and rye were mostly firm in quiet trading.

Soybeans settled back from an early advance as meal prices moved lower. A commission house bought soybeans early, but most of the trade was light and mixed.

Exporters reported that Morocco purchased approximately 1,232,000 bushels of red wheat. Formosa bought 4,000 tons of hard wheat and 5,000 tons of western white wheat.

Outside wheat markets were firm, and others mostly steady.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Market Rallies Briskly On Increased Trading

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market rallied sharply on strong support Wednesday restoring nearly $2,500,000,000 to stock valuations.

The advance was the eighth for the market in the last nine sessions, but was marked by the heavist trading since March 10.

Investor sentiment apparently got a lift from the brightening news background. Indications are that money will become easier and that gross national output will hit a 500 billion dollar annual rate for the first quarter.

Motors, which have ruled narrowly irregular in recent sessions, firmed on balance following a prediction by the head of Studebaker-Packard that the auto industry should experience a good year on the pent up demand for compact cars. American Motors tacked on a large fraction, Studebaker - Packard around a half, and General Motors and Ford ¼-point each.

Electronics, Tuesday's leaders, were in the driver's seat again. International Business Machines added 5 points to 436, Texas Instruments jumped 3 and Litton more than 2.

Rails firmed in their average largely on gains of nearly 2 in Chesapeake & Ohio and nearly a point in Norfolk & Western.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) —Deferred wheat futures lagged, but other grains were mostly higher Wednesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell,wheat was off ⅜ to up 1⅛; corn unchanged to up ⅜; oats up ⅛ to ½; rye up ¼ to ⅝ and soybeans up ⅛ to ⅜.

In wheat, the May contract moved to a new high for the season under active commercial and commission house buying. Some of the buying was associated with export sales of red wheat.

New crop wheat futures were easy, largely because of spreading transactions.

Corn futures held an early small advance as local buying continued to absorb offers by commercial and commission houses. Some buying was based on a belief that farm consumption of corn will be heavy due to the long winter. Cash receipts were light.

Oats and rye were mostly firm in quiet trading.

Soybeans settled back from an early advance as meal prices moved lower. A commission house bought soybeans early, but most of the trade was light and mixed.

Exporters reported that Morocco purchased approximately 1,232,000 bushels of red wheat. Formosa bought 4,000 tons of hard wheat and 5,000 tons of western white wheat.

Outside wheat markets were firm, and others mostly steady.

C&O Canal Bill Cleared By Committee

Two-Hour Debate Slated In House

A long-pending bill to establish the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal National Historical Park was cleared by the House Rules Committee yesterday.

Rep. Howard Smith (D-Va.), chairman, said the committee decided to allow two hours of general debate in the House of Representatives on the measure.

The Rules Committee action provides for debate on the floor of the House on March 30 or April 6, according to Rep. John R. Foley (D-Md. 6th), sponsor.

Rep. Smith said he still opposes financial features of the bill and will express his views during debate.

The proposal is strongly backed by the House Interior Committee.

Vote Is 5-4

The Rules Committee, by a five to four vote, reported favorably on the bill to establish the historical park project which includes a parkway in Western Maryland.

The C&O Canal bill was introduced by Rep. Foley January 15, 1959, and was the subject of extensive hearings before the Subcommittee on Public Lands of the Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs during the first session of the 86th Congress. It was given a favorable report by the committee last July 24, prior to the ending of the first session.

Includes Parkway

H.R. 2331 establishes the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal National Historical Park in Maryland. The park will comprise about 15,000 acres (of which about 4,800 acres are now in federal ownership) extending some 165 miles along the Potomac River from just above Great Falls to Cumberland.

It will also include a 25-mile scenic parkway, on high ground, from Maryland's Route 51 near Paw Paw, W. Va., to the existing Long Ridge Road near Woodmont.

A bill to create a national park along the canal has figured in nearly every session of Congress for the past 10 years.

The March issue of the National Geographic Magazine carried an impressive picture and narrative description of the canal, entitled "Waterway to Washington, the C & O Canal."

'Spring' Lambs

Machine Deals Bad Luck To Two Men Here

Owner Posts Bond On Gaming Charge

A "Lucky Horoscope" machine doled out bad luck here this week as a man who smashed and rifled it Sunday was convicted of petty larceny, and the holder of the license for a West Side tavern was charged with maintaining a gaming device.

William L. Edwards, Baltimore, and a former resident, was fined $25 and costs yesterday on the petty larceny count after Trial Magistrate Paul W. Barnett imposed and then suspended a 90-day jail sentence and paroled the man for two years.

Edwards pleaded guilty to the charge after admitting in a statement to County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya that he smashed the machine at the Dutch Kitchen, 20 South Lee Street, and got $16.50 in quarters from the "Lucky Horoscope" machine.

Is Hit On Head

The Baltimore man was turned over to city police Sunday at 1:36 a. m. by J. C. Kenny, LaVale, a bartender at the tavern who told city police he and his wife caught Edwards robbing the machine and struck the intruder on the head with the tire tool he used to pry open the device.

Edwards, authorities said, denied breaking into the place, saying he fell asleep in a booth and was locked in.

Mr. Lilya presented the state's evidence in the case.

He said the licensee and proprietor of the tavern, Charles Edward Reynard Jr., posted $100 bond at a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Barnett on a charge of maintaining a gaming device after the state's attorney's office prayed a jury trial.

Warning Issued

Officials said the "Lucky Horoscope" machine works like this: After a quarter is dropped into a slot, the device drops a slip which tells one's fortune.

The tip slip, however, opens up to disclose a number which pays off if the player gets a winning combination.

State's Attorney James S. Getty said he had examined the machine some time ago and advised the distributor he considered it a gaming device and would prosecute if any were reported in use here.

RECEIVES AWARD — Harry C. Bittinger of Oakland recently was presented a gold watch and a certificate by Governor J. Millard Tawes for completing 40 years of service with the State Roads Commission. Mr. Bittinger and his wife were guests at a ceremony in the governor's office at Annapolis.

W. H. Johnson, Area Forester, Gets Promotion

Will Assume Duties In Fire Prevention

William H. Johnson, district forester for Western Maryland, has been promoted to the position of assistant state forester in charge of fire protection.

Mr. Johnson's appointment was announced last night by the Maryland Department of Forests and Parks.

Mr. Johnson came to Cumberland in 1935 as a forester in the CCC program. He served in that capacity until the program was discontinued and then was appointed as a supervisor in charge of fire control in southern Maryland.

He was assigned here in December 1942 as district forester to replace H. C. Buckingham, who is now state forester. Mr. Johnson has served in his present position except during a period from 1947-49 when he was district forester at Bel Air.

Mr. Johnson returned to Cumberland in January 1950 and has been in charge of forest work since that time in Allegany, Garrett, Washington and Frederick counties.

The state forest department has cited Mr. Johnson's work in this area in the expansion and development of the tree planting, the development of parks and the development of management plans for state parks in Western Maryland.

While in charge of the district office, Mr. Johnson also has conducted state schools for the training of new employes in the latest fire fighting techniques and has done considerable research and study in fire fighting and fire prevention.

Mr. Johnson's new headquarters will be in Annapolis, but his work will take him throughout the state. He said he plans to move his family to Annapolis in July.

Humans, Animals Find Going Rough In Blizzard

The major effects of Tuesday's spring blizzards were over yesterday, but the situation was far from convenient for many in remote sections of the tri-state area.

For a Terra Alta, W.Va., physician it meant following snowplows over a drifted back road to get a 12-year-old appendicitis patient to the Kingwood hospital, then repeating the whole procedure several hours later to take a woman in labor to the same hospital.

For the whole Preston County town of Cranesville, W.Va., it meant no contact with the "outside" for 48 hours except by telephone.

For a group of sportsmen, farmers and Boy Scouts at Oakland it meant spending a whole day of National Wildlife Week in the woods yesterday feeding the wildlife.

Most Roads Good

All main roads in Garrett County were clear last night, but many secondary roads were open only to one-way traffic.

Road workers said U.S. 40 in Garrett County was 100 per cent bare, U.S. 219 and Maryland 495 about 98 per cent bare. There was no new snow last night.

The snow blowers reached Cranesville just before 9 o'clock last night. Nobody had gone into or out of Cranesville by any manner of conveyance since Monday night. Tuesday's high winds, drifting snow and zero visibility was called the worst day of the season by Berlin Wilhelm, Corinth school principal who lives in Cranesville.

Tommy Friend, 12-year-old son of Warden Friend, the Hopemont, W.Va., postmaster, became ill over the weekend. Tuesday afternoon the family became alarmed and called a doctor.

Towed By Snowplow

The Cranesville Road, which runs off West Virginia Route 7 north of Terra Alta, was completely covered by snow drifts.

The physician called the State Roads Commission, which sent two snowplows out to clear the way for the doctor. Unable to keep up, the doctor had his jeep towed by the plows. Then he put Tommy in the jeep and followed the plows six miles back to the main highway.

Early yesterday morning he had to get the plows out to open the road again so he could get an expectant mother to the hospital.

Wildlife Fed

In Garrett County, 40 or more sportsmen, farmers, Boy Scouts and skiers organized into wildlife feeding teams which covered most of the county distributing corn and hay in places where animals could find it.

The teams hiked on skis or snowshoes over waist-deep drifts to cover all the forest areas they could reach. They emptied a half-ton pickup truck of corn twice, hauling their loads into the woods in rucksacks, or on toboggans and snow discs.

Garrett County farmers, who usually feed the animals themselves but couldn't get out without skis, donated feed. The Marsh Mountain ski resort loaned several pairs of skis.

Pitching in to help were the Western Maryland Ski Club, the Boy Scouts, employes of the Game and Inland Fish Commission and of the Department of State Forests and Parks.

Auto Tags To Be Sold Tomorrow Despite Holiday

Tax Collector William B. Orndorff said his staff will be at the Court House tomorrow to sell automobile license tags even though the rest of the offices in the building will observe the Maryland Day holiday.

Mr. Orndorff said 13,035 sets of new tags have been sold during the 24-day selling period this year. This total is 1,351 ahead of the same date last night, but Mr. Orndorff pointed out there have been two more selling days this year.

The deadline for display of the expiring licenses on private automobiles is March 31 at midnight.

The collector's office is open Monday through Friday from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. and on Saturdays from 9 a. m. until noon.

Emergency Unit Is Readied By City Firemen

Will Be Equipped For Rescue Work

The Cumberland Fire Department is busy equipping a newly purchased panel truck with emergency equipment and hopes to put it into service soon, Chief Virgil Parker reported yesterday.

He said most of the tools needed for emergencies and rescue work are on hand and are being stored in the vehicle.

The truck will be equipped with modern radio equipment, a public address system, an electronic siren, portable generator and floodlights and power tools.

Equipment, Chief Parker said, will include asbestos suits, smoke ejectors, a 20-ton hydraulic jack, an acetylene cutting outfit, a resuscitating device, forcible entry tools and ropes.

He said firemen hope to have the truck equipped and ready for service in three weeks.

The truck will answer all fire calls in business districts, schools and hospitals and eventually may roll on all alarms.

Chief Parker said plans call for the truck to be driven to fires by a member of the Central Fire Station staff. The fireman can work along with an engine company crew at the scene of the fire, he said, if emergency equipment is not needed.

Derr Launches Campaign For Mathias Here

John A. Derr, campaign chairman for Charles McC. Mathias, Frederick attorney who is seeking the Republican nomination to the House of Representatives for the Sixth Congressional District, visited Allegany County to begin his campaign in this area.

Mr. Derr, former Frederick mayor who ran unsuccessfully for state comptroller on the 1958 GOP ticket, said he hopes to form a Mathias for Congress committee in Allegany County. He spoke to GOP leaders and members of the State Central Committee during his visit here.

The campaign chairman had hoped to travel to Garrett County also before returning to Hagerstown last night, but was forced to cancel this plan because of the bad weather there.

Mr. Derr said that similar Mathias for Congress committees have been formed in Frederick and Washington counties and he is pleased with the reception he received here. These committees, he explained will back his interests in the forthcoming primary.

Mr. Mathias is an attorney who presently is a member of the Maryland House of Delegates and formerly was with the Attorney General's office. He will visit Cumberland on Friday when he is to be guest speaker at a meeting of the Cumberland Women's Republican Club at the Woman's Civic Club house.

State's Attorney James S. Getty prosecuted and Harold A. Naughton was defense attorney.

Officials said Galen, who denied all charges, was advised he had the right to appeal under a $1,000 bond.

Plane Wreckage Believed Seen At Spruce Knob

Snow Drifts Stall Search Till Morning

ELKINS, W. Va. (UPI) — The burned wreckage of a plane believed to be the Air Force C-45 transport missing since Tuesday night was found Wednesday in a remote area about 23 miles southeast of here.

Major M. E. Hollar, public information officer with the Civil Air Patrol at Elkins, said search teams were unable to get into the area before dark and were forced to curtail operations until daylight Thursday.

A ground rescue team, equipped with snowshoes, will attempt to get into the area as soon as possible Thursday. Identification can not be made until search parties reach the crash scene, Hollar said.

No Survivors Seen

The plane was carrying the pilot and three passengers from Richmond, Va., to Lockbourne Air Force Base at Columbus, Ohio, when it was reported missing. It was scheduled to reach the Ohio base at 7:15 p.m. e.s.t. Tuesday night.

Five airplanes and two helicopters scanned the route which the missing plane was following. CAP officials said it appeared there were no survivors.

Maj. John Titus, CAP search commander here, said eight radio-equipped ground crews scouring the area east of here were slowed down by 10 inches of snow and drifts up to 12 feet in some mountain sections.

Helicopters hovered around the Spruce Knob area which is located about 10 miles northwest of Franklin and at 4,860 is the highest point in the plane's charted course in the district.

Reported Icing

The plane was on a trip from its home base at Florence, S. C., to the Ohio base. It made stops in Durham, N. C., and Richmond.

The Charleston CAP unit said the pilot, identified as Capt. William G. Barbour of Florence, radioed at 5:30 p.m. that his plane was "icing up" at 4,200 feet about 30 miles east of here. That was the last word from the plane.

The other three persons in the plane were identified as Mrs. Elizabeth D. Tucker, former Richmond, Va., school teacher and a lieutenant in the CAP; Dr. Monroe Hatch, a civilian employe of Shaw Air Force Base, Sumter, S. C., and Clarence Bomer, education director for the North Carolina CAP.

Damage Slight In Area Fire

Two fire companies responded yesterday when fire broke out in a Wiley Ford, W. Va., home, but the blaze was out on arrival.

The Wiley Ford Fire Company answered the alarm at 3 p. m. at the home of Archie Porter, Welton Street.

Wiley Ford Fire Chief W. W. Lindsay said the Ridgeley Volunteer Fire Company was asked to help as there was no water supply near the home.

Firemen said the blaze scorched the wallpaper in the bedroom of the home but was put out by Mr. Porter after he ripped the wallpaper from the wall around a heating stove and wet the area with water from a hand pump.

Firemen said the only damage was to the wallpaper of the room.

C&O Canal Bill Cleared By Committee

Two-Hour Debate Slated In House

A long-pending bill to establish the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal National Historical Park was cleared by the House Rules Committee yesterday.

Rep. Howard Smith (D-Va.), chairman, said the committee decided to allow two hours of general debate in the House of Representatives on the measure.

The Rules Committee action provides for debate on the floor of the House on March 30 or April 6, according to Rep. John R. Foley (D-Md. 6th), sponsor.

Rep. Smith said he still opposes financial features of the bill and will express his views during debate.

The proposal is strongly backed by the House Interior Committee.

Vote Is 5-4

The Rules Committee, by a five to four vote, reported favorably on the bill to establish the historical park project which includes a parkway in Western Maryland.

The C&O Canal bill was introduced by Rep. Foley January 15, 1959, and was the subject of extensive hearings before the Subcommittee on Public Lands of the Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs during the first session of the 86th Congress. It was given a favorable report by the committee last July 24, prior to the ending of the first session.

Includes Parkway

H.R. 2331 establishes the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal National Historical Park in Maryland. The park will comprise about 15,000 acres (of which about 4,800 acres are now in federal ownership) extending some 165 miles along the Potomac River from just above Great Falls to Cumberland.

It will also include a 25-mile scenic parkway, on high ground, from Maryland's Route 51 near Paw Paw, W. Va., to the existing Long Ridge Road near Woodmont.

A bill to create a national park along the canal has figured in nearly every session of Congress for the past 10 years.

The March issue of the National Geographic Magazine carried an impressive picture and narrative description of the canal, entitled "Waterway to Washington, the C & O Canal."

'Spring' Lambs

Machine Deals Bad Luck To Two Men Here

Owner Posts Bond On Gaming Charge

A "Lucky Horoscope" machine doled out bad luck here this week as a man who smashed and rifled it Sunday was convicted of petty larceny, and the holder of the license for a West Side tavern was charged with maintaining a gaming device.

William L. Edwards, Baltimore, and a former resident, was fined $25 and costs yesterday on the petty larceny count after Trial Magistrate Paul W. Barnett imposed and then suspended a 90-day jail sentence and paroled the man for two years.

Edwards pleaded guilty to the charge after admitting in a statement to County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya that he smashed the machine at the Dutch Kitchen, 20 South Lee Street, and got $16.50 in quarters from the "Lucky Horoscope" machine.

Is Hit On Head

The Baltimore man was turned over to city police Sunday at 1:36 a. m. by J. C. Kenny, LaVale, a bartender at the tavern who told city police he and his wife caught Edwards robbing the machine and struck the intruder on the head with the tire tool he used to pry open the device.

Edwards, authorities said, denied breaking into the place, saying he fell asleep in a booth and was locked in.

Mr. Lilya presented the state's evidence in the case.

He said the licensee and proprietor of the tavern, Charles Edward Reynard Jr., posted $100 bond at a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Barnett on a charge of maintaining a gaming device after the state's attorney's office prayed a jury trial.

Warning Issued

Officials said the "Lucky Horoscope" machine works like this: After a quarter is dropped into a slot, the device drops a slip which tells one's fortune.

The tip slip, however, opens up to disclose a number which pays off if the player gets a winning combination.

State's Attorney James S. Getty said he had examined the machine some time ago and advised the distributor he considered it a gaming device and would prosecute if any were reported in use here.

W. H. Johnson, Area Forester, Gets Promotion

Will Assume Duties In Fire Prevention

William H. Johnson, district forester for Western Maryland, has been promoted to the position of assistant state forester in charge of fire protection.

Mr. Johnson's appointment was announced last night by the Maryland Department of Forests and Parks.

Mr. Johnson came to Cumberland in 1935 as a forester in the CCC program. He served in that capacity until the program was discontinued and then was appointed as a supervisor in charge of fire control in southern Maryland.

He was assigned here in December 1942 as district forester to replace H. C. Buckingham, who is now state forester. Mr. Johnson has served in his present position except during a period from 1947-49 when he was district forester at Bel Air.

Mr. Johnson returned to Cumberland in January 1950 and has been in charge of forest work since that time in Allegany, Garrett, Washington and Frederick counties.

The state forest department has cited Mr. Johnson's work in this area in the expansion and development of the tree planting, the development of parks and the development of management plans for state parks in Western Maryland.

While in charge of the district office, Mr. Johnson also has conducted state schools for the training of new employes in the latest fire fighting techniques and has done considerable research and study in fire fighting and fire prevention.

Mr. Johnson's new headquarters will be in Annapolis, but his work will take him throughout the state. He said he plans to move his family to Annapolis in July.

Humans, Animals Find Going Rough In Blizzard

The major effects of Tuesday's spring blizzards were over yesterday, but the situation was far from convenient for many in remote sections of the tri-state area.

For a Terra Alta, W.Va., physician it meant following snowplows over a drifted back road to get a 12-year-old appendicitis patient to the Kingwood hospital, then repeating the whole procedure several hours later to take a woman in labor to the same hospital.

For the whole Preston County town of Cranesville, W.Va., it meant no contact with the "outside" for 48 hours except by telephone.

For a group of sportsmen, farmers and Boy Scouts at Oakland it meant spending a whole day of National Wildlife Week in the woods yesterday feeding the wildlife.

Most Roads Good

All main roads in Garrett County were clear last night, but many secondary roads were open only to one-way traffic.

Road workers said U.S. 40 in Garrett County was 100 per cent bare, U.S. 219 and Maryland 495 about 98 per cent bare. There was no new snow last night.

The snow blowers reached Cranesville just before 9 o'clock last night. Nobody had gone into or out of Cranesville by any manner of conveyance since Monday night. Tuesday's high winds, drifting snow and zero visibility was called the worst day of the season by Berlin Wilhelm, Corinth school principal who lives in Cranesville.

Tommy Friend, 12-year-old son of Warden Friend, the Hopemont, W.Va., postmaster, became ill over the weekend. Tuesday afternoon the family became alarmed and called a doctor.

Towed By Snowplow

The Cranesville Road, which runs off West Virginia Route 7 north of Terra Alta, was completely covered by snow drifts.

The physician called the State Roads Commission, which sent two snowplows out to clear the way for the doctor. Unable to keep up, the doctor had his jeep towed by the plows. Then he put Tommy in the jeep and followed the plows six miles back to the main highway.

Early yesterday morning he had to get the plows out to open the road again so he could get an expectant mother to the hospital.

Wildlife Fed

In Garrett County, 40 or more sportsmen, farmers, Boy Scouts and skiers organized into wildlife feeding teams which covered most of the county distributing corn and hay in places where animals could find it.

The teams hiked on skis or snowshoes over waist-deep drifts to cover all the forest areas they could reach. They emptied a half-ton pickup truck of corn twice, hauling their loads into the woods in rucksacks, or on toboggans and snow discs.

Garrett County farmers, who usually feed the animals themselves but couldn't get out without skis, donated feed. The Marsh Mountain ski resort loaned several pairs of skis.

Pitching in to help were the Western Maryland Ski Club, the Boy Scouts, employes of the Game and Inland Fish Commission and of the Department of State Forests and Parks.

Plane Wreckage Believed Seen At Spruce Knob

Snow Drifts Stall Search Till Morning

ELKINS, W. Va. (UPI) — The burned wreckage of a plane believed to be the Air Force C-45 transport missing since Tuesday night was found Wednesday in a remote area about 23 miles southeast of here.

Major M. E. Hollar, public information officer with the Civil Air Patrol at Elkins, said search teams were unable to get into the area before dark and were forced to curtail operations until daylight Thursday.

A ground rescue team, equipped with snowshoes, will attempt to get into the area as soon as possible Thursday. Identification can not be made until search parties reach the crash scene, Hollar said.

No Survivors Seen

The plane was carrying the pilot and three passengers from Richmond, Va., to Lockbourne Air Force Base at Columbus, Ohio, when it was reported missing. It was scheduled to reach the Ohio base at 7:15 p.m. e.s.t. Tuesday night.

Emergency Unit Is Readied By City Firemen

Will Be Equipped For Rescue Work

The Cumberland Fire Department is busy equipping a newly purchased panel truck with emergency equipment and hopes to put it into service soon, Chief Virgil Parker reported yesterday.

He said most of the tools needed for emergencies and rescue work are on hand and are being stored in the vehicle.

The truck will be equipped with modern radio equipment, a public address system, an electronic siren, portable generator and floodlights and power tools.

Equipment, Chief Parker said, will include asbestos suits, smoke ejectors, a 20-ton hydraulic jack, an acetylene cutting outfit, a resuscitating device, forcible entry tools and ropes.

He said firemen hope to have the truck equipped and ready for service in three weeks.

The truck will answer all fire calls in business districts, schools and hospitals and eventually may roll on all alarms.

Chief Parker said plans call for the truck to be driven to fires by a member of the Central Fire Station staff. The fireman can work along with an engine company crew at the scene of the fire, he said, if emergency equipment is not needed.

Derr Launches Campaign For Mathias Here

The campaign chairman had hoped to travel to Garrett County also before returning to Hagerstown last night, but was forced to cancel this plan because of the bad weather there.

Mr. Derr said that similar Mathias for Congress committees have been formed in Frederick and Washington counties and he is pleased with the reception he received here. These committees, he explained will back his interests in the forthcoming primary.

Mr. Mathias is an attorney who presently is a member of the Maryland House of Delegates and formerly was with the Attorney General's office. He will visit Cumberland on Friday when he is to be guest speaker at a meeting of the Cumberland Women's Republican Club at the Woman's Civic Club house.
